James Marshall (R), write-in candidate for the position, was unsuccessful, running about 500 votes behind incumbent Blain Mead (R). Dr. David K. Rice (R) amassed an unofficial tally of 6,500 to Democrat Thomas Donnelly's 4,700.

Republicans A. J. Gorfida, W. Beyer Africa and Walter Howard Austin unofficially won the three contested elections for Warren Borough Council.

William F. Clinger Jr. of Warren appears sure of a seat in the state constitutional convention after leading the four nominated candidates. Democrat Clinger gathered 17,166 in uncompleted results.

With a wide majority of votes showing, William W. Allen (R) of Tidoute was assured victory as representative to the general assembly from the 65th district, over Democrat Alva Fuller. Florence Hoffman (R) ran well ahead of John Fago (D) in the contested county treasurer election.

Republicans Sweep City Of Jamestown

JAMESTOWN, N.Y. — Charles B. Magnuson led his GOP ticket to a smashing victory yesterday over Mayor Fred H. Dunn and his Democratic running mates. Unofficial totals showed Magnuson with 10,195 votes to 5,582 for Mayor Dunn. The remainder of the GOP ticket won by similar 2 to 1 margins. Throughout his campaign Magnuson stressed the theme of unity in city hall in an obvious effort to focus attention on what he called "Democratic bickering."

The GOP winner cut deeply into the strong Democratic third, fourth and fifth wards and won all three. Yesterday's victory turned the table on the Democrats who only two years ago defeated the Republicans by a similar margin of victory.

All 18 GOP candidates for city councilman and supervisors were easy victors as the coat-tails of mayor-elect Magnuson swept all into office.

As further evidence of the large protest vote in Jamestown, the proposed new state constitution was overwhelmingly defeated by a vote of 5 to 1. The transportation bond issue however met the approval of Jamestown voters in a 2 to 1 vote.

Marshall Loses Write-in Vote For County Commissioner Post

By BETTY RICE

In one of the most unusual county commissioner races in the entire history of Warren County, Republican Dr. David K. Rice emerged the top vote getter in yesterday's election.

If local tradition is adhered to once the new board of commissioners take office, Rice will undoubtedly be named chairman of the three-man board, having an unofficial tally of about 6,500 votes from the 46 precincts.

Despite a hard-fought "write-in campaign" by a citizen's committee, James Marshall (R), who lost in a close primary race from among 11 Republican candidates for the county commissioner's post, Marshall ran about 500 votes behind the incumbent Blain M. Mead.

The trend showed Mead on the way toward scoring about 4,500 votes with Marshall in the neighborhood of 4,000.

Gorfida Upsets Bevevino In Borough Council Race

Republicans won the three contested elections for Warren Borough Council yesterday, according to last night's unofficial tallies.

A Republican also won the only contested race for Warren County school director.

The closest borough race was in the fourth ward, where A. J. Gorfida of 806 Fifth Ave. edged out J.A. Bevevino of 812 Fourth Ave. by 158 to 151.

The widest margin of victory was in the first ward, where W. Beyer Africa of 215 Water St. won over Jack Downs of 8 W. Third Ave. by 363 to 107.

In the eighth ward, Walter Howard Austin won by 215 votes to 144 votes for William Prendergast.

In the only contested election for school director, Republican Henry S. Petersen of 1820 Market St., ext. topped Democrat Kenneth H. Lind of Matthew Run, Youngsville, by 1919 to 1332, with all precincts but Columbus reporting. Petersen

RECORD VOTES

Commissioners Clerk William Allen performed the familiar task of recording election results unofficially as they came in from outlying precincts by phone. Allen, a Republican, was elected to fill the vacancy created by the death of William C. Fuelhart as representative to the General Assembly from 65th district.

Allen Elected Assemblyman In GOP Sweep

By BETTY RICE

William W. Allen of Tidoute, Republican candidate for the General Assembly representing Warren and Forest counties proved himself a winner yesterday's general election at least within his own county. Results from Forest County were not available at press time but Allen's wide majority in Warren County assured his victory.

Unofficial tallies showed Allen with better than 6,400 votes with Democrat Alva Fuller close to 3,900.

Allen, who will fill the unexpired term of the late William C. Fuelhart, in a statement to the people of Warren and Forest counties said: "Please accept my sincere appreciation for the trust you have placed in my hands as your assemblyman."

"When I accepted the appointment to be the Republican candidate for the office in the 65th Assembly District, I made one big promise and will do all within my power to fulfill that promise."

"I will again pledge myself to work for the good and welfare of the people of Warren and Forest counties. I realize there will be many challenges in the months to come both in Harrisburg and at home."

"My sincere hope is that with your help, the 65th assembly district will become even more significant in our State of Pennsylvania and that we shall move forward together for many years to come."

There was also a contest for the office of county treasurer with Republican Florence Hoffman running well ahead of Democrat John Fago by a two to one margin. Mrs. Hoffman has better than 7,000 unofficial votes; Fago over 3,500.

Republican incumbents for other county offices ran unopposed yesterday with Prothonotary Warren G. Lowe again leading.

Hatcher Wins in Gary; Taft Cleveland Leader

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican Louis B. Nunn was elected governor of Kentucky yesterday, Massachusetts Secretary of State Kevin H. White defeated Louise Day Hicks to take charge of Boston City Hall, and a Negro Democrat was elected mayor of Gary, Ind.

Richard G. Hatcher edged Republican Joseph Radigan in a tight contest for mayor of the Indiana steel-making city. The arithmetic of race of evident in a Gary vote count that clearly followed color lines.

Those voter decisions, with their overtones of racial controversy and national policy, could hold portents for 1968 and the Presidential election one year away.

Nunn aimed his campaign past his Democratic opponent, Henry Ward, contending that a GOP vote was a vote to repudiate President Johnson's administration and his policy in Vietnam. The conservative lawyer from southern Kentucky became the first Republican elected governor there in 24 years.

White beat Mrs. Hicks, a controversial grandmother, in a battle between Democrats which centered on the issue of racial balance in the public schools.

The issue of race was crucial, too, in Cleveland, where a Republican and a Negro Democrat were tangled in a tight mayoral contest.

In Cleveland, as in Gary, National Guardsmen stood by lest polling place contests spill over into racial violence. No serious trouble was reported in either city.

Seth C. Taft opened an early lead as votes were counted from predominantly white Cleveland neighborhoods, but Carl B. Stokes moved up as the Negro vote was tabulated.

Stokes said the count was so close it was "impossible to give any kind of an accurate evaluation."

Nunn, making his second bid to become governor of Kentucky, collected 392,598 votes to Ward's 369,166 with all but about 400 of 3,031 precincts counted. Kentucky politicians quesing the ticket for GOP, followed closely by Register and Recorder William E. Rice and Sheriff D. E. Allen Jr.

Lowe, Rice and Allen were soaring in the high 7,000's. Sheriff Allen, however, who gained sufficient write-in votes from Democrats last spring, was running on both tickets and was heading for better than 3,500 votes from the opposition party.

There was no question as to the county auditors with three to be elected. All incumbents swept back in with Russell Dietrich slightly in the lead followed by his fellow Republican Ray Niver. Democrat Ralph Summerton was also re-elected. Incumbent jury commissioners, Wilma Toner (R) and Marie Weaver (D) were also re-elected.

Tate's Victory Highlights State's Off-Year Balloting

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

Associated Press Writer PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Incumbent James H. J. Tate, a grassroots political war horse who licked his own party bosses in the spring, won re-election yesterday as mayor of Philadelphia in the highlight of Pennsylvania's off-year balloting.

While the state and the nation focused its attention on the mayoralty contest in the state's largest city, there were other surprising developments.

Early unofficial returns for the 150 seats to the state's first constitutional convention in 94 years brought seats to former Republican Gov. William W. Scranton, state Sen. John T. Van Sant, R; Rep. Marian Markey, R, and Robert V. Casey, a former candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor.

Scranton unexpectedly ran well behind Casey in Lackawanna County's 22nd Senatorial district in the constitutional delegate voting. Three delegates were selected from the district. In the only statewide issue on the ballot, the early votes were more than 3 to 1 in favor of compulsory and binding arbitration of disputes involving policemen and firemen. If the proposed amendment carries, action by the legislature still will be necessary to make it effective.

The voters on a sunlit but cold fall day also elected mayors in 23 other cities, two state senators and one house member. A strong outpouring of voters was reported from most areas.

In Allentown, Democrat Ray Bracy, incumbent mayor who was elected two years ago to fill the unexpired term of the late John T. Gross, defeated Republican Sam Fenstermacher. Fenstermacher served on city council for 13 years before being ousted in a re-election bid two years ago.

The big show, however, was in the state's largest city, where Tate, a Catholic, withstood the stiffest challenge to the Democrat's 16-year control of City Hall. A hard-crusted, ward politician, Tate won over Republican Dist. Atty. Arlen Specter in the closest mayoralty election here in 32 years.

The latest vote from 1,731 of the city's 1,734 precincts, showed: Tate D 351,311 Specter R 340,752.

Republican William W. Allen of Tidoute won the vacant House seat from the 65th legislative district over Democrat Alva Fuller of Grand Valley. He succeeds the late William C. Fuelhart, also a Republican.

In the state capitol at Harrisburg, Republican Albert H. Straub was elected mayor in a close contest against Democrat John J. Lynch. Straub won by less than 1,000 votes in one of the closest elections for mayor in this predominantly Republican stronghold. Lynch made his

AROUND THE NATION

Cleveland, Ohio

CLEVELAND (AP) — Republican Seth C. Taft and Negro Democrat Carl B. Stokes were locked yesterday in Cleveland's tightest mayoral election in a generation.

Unofficial election board returns for 500 of 903 polling places gave Taft 81,474 votes to 67,023 for Stokes.

Early and unofficial returns from white areas had given Taft a big lead in his bid to become the city's first Republican mayor in 26 years, but as returns began to come from Negro areas, Stokes moved up.

Stokes was seeking to become the nation's first Negro mayor of a major city.

Two years ago Stokes missed victory in the mayor's race by only 2,143 votes after a recount.

Helping get out the vote in the Negro neighborhoods was the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., who came here from Atlanta Monday after serving a four-day jail term in Alabama.

Stokes' bid to become the first Negro mayor in a major U.S. city has been credited by some for Cleveland escaping predicted civil disorder last summer and his supporters spread word to "cool it for Carl."

Both candidates tried to subordinate the race issue in an intensive, debate-filled campaign since Stokes upset incumbent Mayor Ralph S. Locher in the Democratic primary Oct. 3.

Taft fired two campaign workers for appealing for votes on racial grounds, Stokes pledged race will not influence his appointments or his administration if he takes the $25,000-year mayor's post next Monday.

But the racial issue was there, and if voters make it a prime consideration, jumping Democratic party lines, Stokes cannot win. In this city of about 810,000, Negroes are outnumbered 2-1.

Gary, Indiana

GARY, Ind. (AP) — Democrat Richard G. Hatcher, a Negro, won a cliffhanger of a race for mayor of this steel-making center last night, according to unofficial returns.

Returns from 129 of 132 precincts showed Hatcher out front with 38,441 to 37,204 for Republican Joseph Radigan.

Two of the three remaining precincts were in predominantly Negro neighborhoods.

Throughout the almost four hours of counting, it was evident that the voting followed strict color lines.

As voters went to the polls, a detail of National Guardsmen and state police was poised for duty under a peace-keeping callup by Gov. Roger Braunlin, a Democrat. The troops and Guardsmen were in a nearby county, about 15 minutes from Gary. The governor's use of the guard was affirmed by the Indiana Supreme Court a day earlier. Officials declined to say how many troops they had in readiness.

Police Chief Conway Mullins said he had sent 48 men to patrol what he called "key districts."

Gary's population of 180,000 is about 55 per cent Negro. Hatcher waged his campaign without the backing of John Krupa, the Lake County Democratic chairman, who accused Hatcher of having the backing of "Black Power" and militant Negro leaders. Hatcher has maintained he opposed advocates of violence.

The voting took place after a three-judge federal panel directed the Lake County Election Board Monday to take steps to insure a fair election. The action came on suits filed by the Justice Department and Hatcher charging voter registration irregularities.

Boston, Massachusetts

BOSTON (AP) — Kevin H. White, who said his campaign was aimed at barring "hate and bigotry" from Boston, last night won election as mayor of Boston, defeating the controversial Mrs. Louise Day Hicks, the foe of proposed desegregation plans for schools with nearly total Negro enrollments.

The unofficial vote from all 275 precincts, with only a handful of absentee ballots uncounted, gave White 100,828 votes and 89,755 for Mrs. Hicks.

The campaign centered on racial imbalance in public schools. An undercurrent of white backlash was fanned by rioting in Boston's predominantly Negro district of Roxbury last summer.

Mrs. Hicks, a member of the School Committee, opposed busing Negro students to achieve racial balance in schools. Her campaign slogan was "you know where I stand."

"No man or woman is going to tear this city apart with hate or bigotry or false promises," said White.

Both mayoralty candidates are Democrats although voting was nonpartisan.

The 48-year-old Mrs. Hicks, grandmother of three and mother of two, maintained a firm position against busing Negro children to achieve racial balance in the public schools.

White, 38, serving his third term as secretary of state, proposed that children in grades one through four go to neighborhood schools. He said grades five to eight could attend "middle schools" with wider zones and high school pupils could commute to other areas.

Louisville, Kentucky

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Louie B. Nunn, a South Kentucky lawyer, yesterday was elected the first Republican governor of Kentucky in 24 years.

After a cliffhanging four hours, he surged steadily ahead of Democrat Henry Ward, a former highway commissioner who was endorsed by the state administration.

For the 43-year-old Nunn it was success the second time. He lost by only 13,000 votes to Gov. Edward T. Breathitt four years ago. With 2,634 of 3,031 precincts reporting unofficially, Nunn had 392,598 votes and Ward 369,166.

Ward, 58, boasted of state progress under the past two Democratic administrations and said he had a reputation for honesty and efficiency. Although the GOP dragged in national politics, the comparative closeness of the vote made it doubtful whether Nunn's victory was a repudiation of Johnson, as Nunn told the electorate.

Few issues developed during the campaign but Nunn stressed the idea that a vote for the GOP was a repudiation of the Johnson administration and its policies in Vietnam.

Ward steered away from this argument, contending the war had nothing to do with the state political picture.

Both nominees, however, expressed opposition to open housing legislation, which had touched off numerous demonstrations in Louisville last spring.

Jackson, Mississippi

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Democratic Rep. John Bell Williams, stripped of his congressional seniority for bolting the party's 1964 presidential ticket, swept to a one-sided victory over Republican Rubel L. Phillips last night in Mississippi's general election for governor.

Williams, a 48-year-old veteran of two decades in Congress, conducted a low-key campaign and avoided controversy on which Phillips could build issues. As a result, Phillips found himself unable to arouse any deep interest among the rank and file voter.

Phillips, a 42-year-old Jackson lawyer, was elected to the State Public Service Commission as a Democrat in 1955. After switching parties, he ran for governor in 1963 against Johnson and drew 38 per cent of the vote.

Harrisburg, Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG (AP) — Republican Albert H. Straub was elected mayor of Harrisburg yesterday, putting down a strong bid by a Democratic challenger to end 52 years of GOP control of city hall.

Complete, but unofficial returns from all 60 precincts, gave Straub 11,293 votes to 10,315 votes for Democrat John J. Lynch.

It marked one of the closest elections for mayor in this predominantly Republican stronghold within memory of most election observers. Dr. William K. McBride won four years ago by 8,000 votes.

Lynch, a 37-year-old former newsman, was making his first bid for political office. Faced with a GOP registration advantage of 3 1/2-1, he waged a vigorous campaign, proclaiming himself the "people's candidate."

Straub, a 62-year-old insurance executive, also campaigned vigorously, declaring that he would be Harrisburg's "action mayor." Straub, elected three times to the city's school

WILLIAM F. CLINGER

W. F. Clinger Wins Convention Seat

William F. Clinger Jr. of Warren led the field of four candidates for seats in the state constitutional convention in the early tallying with 17,166 votes.

Clinger led his home county with 7,388 votes to 5,990 for his Republican running mate Victor Westerberg of McKean County. Gordon Daghir, Democrat, received 3,260 votes in Warren County and Max Gabreski, Bradford Democrat received 3,380.

In McKean County, Westerberg led the balloting with 8,474 votes. Clinger was second with 7,112. Daghir received 2,456 and Gabreski 2,364 votes in McKean county.

Clinger was first in Venango county with 2,371, 31 of 76 precincts reporting. Gabreski was second with 2,096 Westerberg third with 1,993 and Daghir last with 1,234.

With seven of twelve precincts reporting in Forest county, Clinger had 295, Westerberg, 257; Gabreski, 171; and Daghir, 123.

No totals were in from Elk a predominantly Democratic county. However, Clinger appeared sure of a seat at the convention because he was ahead of his closest Democratic rival, Gabreski, by almost 10,000 votes and Democratic registration in Elk County is only 10,000.

Totals for the other candidates were Westerberg, 16,714; Gabreski, 8,011; and Daghir, 7,073.

Republicans jumped into a slim and inconclusive lead for political control of Pennsylvania's first constitutional convention in 94 years in yesterday's municipal balloting.

Former Gov. William W. Scranton and unsuccessful Democratic gubernatorial hopeful Robert P. Casey were among the early winners as the returns were slow coming in from all parts of the state.

Voting in the districts reporting followed past political patterns as the experts predicted a close race between the two major parties for control of the convention which will convene Dec. 1 in Harrisburg.

Returns from 15 of the 50 senatorial districts gave up GOP 26 seats, the Democrats 19.

Incomplete tabulation from 12 other districts gave the Republicans a lead for 19 other seats to 17 for the Democrats.

The traditional Democratic strongholds of Philadelphia and Allegheny County were not heard from as the counters apparently concentrated on the heated municipal campaigns in both areas.

The most noteworthy contest occurred in the traditionally Democratic 22nd Senatorial District of Lackawanna County where Casey led Scranton in the unofficial complete returns, 49,879 to 47,254. The third seat went to Democrat Edward P. Lutz.

Voters balloted for two candidates in each senatorial district with the top three men to be seated to the state's fifth constitutional convention, the first since 1873. This was to assure minority representation at the three-month gathering.

Casey, Lackawanna County's most popular Democrat, gave up his seat in the Senate last year to unsuccessfully seek the party's gubernatorial nomination. He was upset in the May primary by Milton Shapp.

Scranton, who left the governorship in January, did not really campaign. He returned only Monday from a South American educational study tour for a private foundation.

Returns for delegates were slow coming in as primary concern in the vote counting centered on the municipal elections for control of the city halls and courthouses throughout the state.

With 163 delegates to be chosen, it will take 82 seats for one party to politically control the convention and dictate the election of officers and rules of procedures.

A total of 246 candidates — 100 Republicans, 100 Democrats, 34 Constitutionalist and 12 Independents — competed for the 150 elective seats, three from each of the 50 senatorial districts.

In addition, Lt. Gov. Raymond Lutz, 58, was elected to the office of lieutenant governor.

Tate Re-elected Mayor In Heated Philly Race

By LEE LINDER

Associated Press Writer PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Democrat Mayor H. J. Tate won re-election to a second term yesterday in the nation's fourth largest city, squeaking past a tough Republican challenger with just a 1.6 per cent edge out of 695,000 votes cast.

With the unofficial vote virtually complete, Tate led Dist. Atty. Arlen Specter 351,311 to 340,752.

This lead of only 10,559 actually represented a minority of the ballots. Three minority party candidates, two of them Negroes, trailed out of eight.

The 59-year-old Tate, described by friend and foe as a master politician, overcame a split in his party which had denied him primary endorsement to turn back Specter, who had quit the Democrats in 1965 to make a successful run for district attorney as a Republican.

Race, religion, parochial education, police control that averted summer street rioting — all were issues in the hotly contested, name-calling race.

The 37-year-old Specter had hoped to become the first Jewish mayor in Philadelphia history, and end 16 years of Democratic control of City Hall.

Hemmed in by hundreds of cheering supporters at his center city campaign headquarters, a tired and perspiring Tate thanked the people for his "close victory." And he had special praise for "those who stood behind me the past 10 months" — especially citing the almost solid support of labor.

Republican City Chairman William Devlin conceded defeat 90 minutes after the polls closed, but Specter waited an hour longer before admitting he had lost.

The election assumed national importance as the Democrats imported Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey to lift Tate's star, while the Republicans made a stab for the Negro vote with U.S. Sen. Edward Brooke of Massachusetts, the only Negro in the Senate.

Humphrey said Pennsylvania could shift into the GOP column during the 1968 presidential election if Philadelphia went Republican.

The Tate triumph retained control of City Hall for the Democrats in the closest election fight since 1935 when a Republican won by 45,000. The mayor's edge wasn't expected to be more than 25,000.

The 59-year-old Tate, a Catholic had been tagged "a sure loser" by Democratic City Chairman Frank Smith back in January — and he dumped the mayor in favor of former city controller Alexander Hemphill.

Tate took on the challenge and beat Hemphill by 72,000 in the primary.

Devlin said Specter, who at 37 hoped to become the first Jewish mayor in Philadelphia history, lost because he failed to take a strong stand on aid to parochial schools "in a strong Catholic town."

Tate who had come out 100 per cent for such aid taunted Specter again and again to take a position on the issue — but the Republican declined.

The mayor, despite the split in party ranks, never stopped politicking — even during the lull of summer vacation.

first bid for public office.

Good weather provided a big assist to an election which didn't generate much heat in most towns across the state. The polls were open for 13 hours, beginning by 7 a.m., and the turnout overall, was expected to exceed 60 per cent of those registered.

In Philadelphia, where Democratic incumbent James H. Tate battled Republican Dist. Atty. Arlen Specter in a hot mayoral race, the two candidates were among the first to vote.

In Gettysburg, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, who left his overcoat and his wife, Mamie, at home, cast his paper ballot at the Barlow Township fire hall.

They were among the 5,320,727 persons eligible to vote in Pennsylvania's 9,462 precincts, there are 2,628,000 registered Republicans, 2,618,000 registered Democrats and 73,774 minor partisans and independents.

If Pennsylvania voters had few items of pressing statewide interest to lead them to the polls, they had the knowledge that this election would be historic.

For out of it comes the names of the people who will draft a new constitution which, as Gov. Shafer said, will bring Pennsylvania from the 19th into the 21st Century.

There were 246 candidates for the 150 convention posts. Three were chosen from each senatorial district, but voters were able

In naming its choice for delegates to the constitutional convention in Warren County favored its native son William F. Clinger (R) and the candidate from McKean County, Victor Westerberg (R). Both were running ahead of Democrats Gordon Daghir and Max Gabreski. The margin appeared to be two to one in favor of the two Republicans.

The vote on the proposed constitutional amendment 9-A in regard to arbitration measures for police and firemen, the Warren County vote was a decisive "yes."

Florence Hoffman, who is the first woman in Warren County, to run for a major office since Mrs. Helen Morrow sought the Republican nomination for county commissioner four years ago, said she could only say thank you over and over again for the fine support she received yesterday.

Despite all predictions that returns would be late in coming in, election officials were surprised when the precincts reported quickly and accurately.

There was some general confusion at some polling places in regard to the write-in vote for Marshall, but all in all, observers termed it an interesting and orderly election.

to vote for only two, thus assuring minority representation.

Besides the 150 chosen by voters, delegates include Lt. Gov. Raymond J. Broderick and 12 legislative leaders. Thus 82 of the 163 will comprise a majority and they'll be able to name the convention president -- a political plum.

Hall for the Democrats, defeating Republican Arthur W. Sherwood.

New York voters rejected a new state constitution which would have abolished a 73-year ban on public aid to church schools. But a $2.5 billion transportation bond issue, biggest state bonding plan in U.S. history, was approved. Republican Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller had campaigned hard for the transportation finance program.

The Gary election early developed the look of a largely racial contest in a city where Negroes constitute about 55 per cent of the 178,000 population, but are outnumbered by whites on registration rolls.

In part this stemmed from the May primary when Hatcher wrested the Democratic nomination from Mayor A. Martin Katz, who was backed by the county Democratic organization.

John Krupa, county Democratic chairman, opposed election of Hatcher. He said he would not be against a "responsible Negro" as mayor but contended Hatcher was an extremist.

Toward the end of the campaign, Hatcher filed a federal court suit charging Krupa with conspiring to remove thousands of names of Negro voters from the registration rolls and to add thousands of phony names of whites.

A three-judge court panel, acting Monday, ordered election officials to prevent ineligible persons from voting and not to challenge eligibility of would-be voters except on objective, reasonable standards.

Hatcher, 34, is a native of Michigan City, Ind., who has lived in Gary for seven years. He attended Indiana University and got a law education at Valparaiso.

Radigan, 46, operates a family furniture store and is a city councilman.

In Cleveland, Stokes beat an incumbent mayor to the Democratic nomination, winning it over Ralph Locher in the Oct. 3 primary.

The Cleveland Democratic organization supported Stokes although it had backed Locher in the primary. Stokes also received endorsements from the two daily newspapers, the Cleveland Plain Dealer and the Cleveland Press.

Political analysts figured Stokes got at least 18,000 white primary votes in beating Locher. Negroes comprise about 35 per cent of Cleveland's population of 876,000 by 1960 census.

Race came openly into the campaign through a public assertion by Stokes that if he were beaten it would be only because his opponent was white.

Taft said he is a racial moderate and promised that if elected he would push for equal employment opportunity for Negroes.

Mrs. Hicks, a 48-year-old grandmother, led a 10-candidate field in a preliminary Boston election Sept. 26, but had less than one-third of the 156,928 votes cast.

Because of her opposition to busing Negro school children, there was a racial tinge to the campaign against White, 38, in the finale.

However, race never became a wide open issue.

Mrs. Hicks promised Boston policemen a $10,000 salary schedule which White called fiscal fantasy.

Negroes account for about 13 per cent of Boston's qualified voters.

Arbitration Amendment Passes

PHILADELPHIA (AP) - Pennsylvania voters apparently approved an amendment to the state constitution in yesterday's election which would provide compulsory and binding arbitration in disputes involving policemen and firemen.

The proposal, however, still must be submitted to the General Assembly for action before it becomes effective. The legislature, despite the overwhelming approval of the electorate does not have to consider the vote a mandate to enact such a bill.

Study of Vo-Tech Education

The State Board of Education, concerned about the lack of a comprehensive plan, has commissioned a $200,000, two-year study of vocational and technical education in Pennsylvania.

Dr. Walter Arnold, a native Pennsylvanian, has taken a year's leave of absence from his job as assistant commissioner of education in the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare to supervise the study for the board.

Assisting Arnold will be Dr. John W. Struck, state director of vocational education, and his staff. Much of the data will be gathered by independent research firms under contract to the state.

Arnold explained that a great deal of information on vocational and technical education already is available, but it needs to be coordinated and analyzed before it is of any real value to the state as a planning tool.

The main thrust of the study, he said, will be in four areas: the state economy, occupational training needs and status and appraisal of present programs and facilities.

Other topics to be studied are: follow-up programs; large city problems; special needs; guidance counseling and placement services; teacher education and certification; state and local administration and financing.

Arnold said federal funds would be used to pay for the study.

The overall objective of the study is to produce a series of guidelines to implement a statewide vocational and technical education program.

On March 10, 1966, the state board adopted a resolution establishing this broad vocational and technical education goal: To make appropriate high-quality programs accessible to persons of all ages in all communities of the state. One purpose of the current study will be to let the board know how close it is to this goal.

The need for such a study can hardly be questioned, since the problems of unemployment and underemployment, especially among youth, are persistent and difficult to solve.

Pennsylvania, the third largest industrial state in the nation, needs an outstanding vocational-technical education program if she is to maintain a position of industrial leadership. This study could go a long way toward building the foundation for such a program — News Analysis

Johnson and Education

(C) N.Y. Times News Service

WASHINGTON — President Johnson is now working on what he calls an electronic "network of knowledge" for the United States, and on a world university that will store and eventually transmit information by satellite over large areas of the world's surface.

"Think of the lives it could change," he remarked in the east room of the White House today.

"The student in a small college could tap the research resources of a great university.

The country doctor could get help from a distant laboratory or teaching hospital. . . A famous teacher could reach into a far-off classroom so that no child need be neglected. . . And such a system could involve other nations too, in a partnership to share knowledge and enrich mankind."

This is Lyndon Johnson's consolation in his running battle with the intellectuals. And also the greatest paradox of his administration. For in the field of education, he is a practical dreamer, and it may very well be in the end that his greatest achievements will be recorded precisely in the field of education where he has been most severely criticized.

The Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965 is probably the most significant accomplishment of his administration. For in this he found the political formula that broke through the church-state barrier and enabled the federal government not only to help neglected children in poverty areas, but to provide supplementary services to poor schools, regardless of religious affiliation.

Despite the war in Vietnam, the extent of federal aid to American education in the last three years has been unprecedented. The federal commitment for education and training has risen from $4.7 billion in 1964 to $12.30 billion this year. And in the last three years, Congress has passed more laws and committed more funds to education and health than in all the previous history of the federal government.

The President's latest achievement in this field is the passage of the public broadcasting act of 1967. This was what he signed in the East Room of the White House yesterday, and if he had not taken it in hand personally, it is doubtful that this legislation would ever have gotten through the Congress.

The objective of the legislation was clear enough. It was to create a noncommercial television network that would be free of the tyranny of the advertiser, the mass audience, and political control. But it came up during an economy wave in the Congress and Johnson insisted that the main thing was to get congressional authorization first and leave the question of financing it to some later and more propitious time.

Here again, as in the 1965 Elementary and Secondary Education Act, his knowledge of the Congress paid off. The project was authorized by both Houses without any dispute over money, and the prospect is that, once a distinguished and responsible board is appointed, the new Corporation for Public Broadcasting will get the necessary funds through a supplemental appropriation bill.

Accordingly, his mind is now going forward to these other projects for exploiting modern scientific developments for educational purposes.

"I believe the time has come," he said, "to stake another claim in the name of all the people; a claim upon the combined resources of communications. The time has come to enlist the computer and the satellite as well as television and radio, in the cause of education. . . . A wild and visionary idea? Not at all. Yesterday's strangest dreams are today's headlines, and change is getting swifter. I have already called upon my advisers to explore the possibility of a network for knowledge and to draw up a blueprint for achieving it."

There is something very quiet and moving about the president when he talks in this way. All the yearning of the old frontier comes out in him. He wants the small and lonely colleges to have the best teaching available. He sees education as the ultimate hope of race and poverty, and he looks to modern communications and federal aid as the means of achieving equality of opportunity.

This is something he really cares about and he has already started something in the schools and in television that will go on long after his other controversies with the intellectuals are forgotten.

Make No Plans

SAIGON, Vietnam—A Chinese named Wa Ching walked down Tu Do Street with me. The noon sun steamed the shops. "There are no facts," he said. "Make no plans," I looked back at the twin spires of the Catholic Cathedral, pointing to the sky like V for victory fingers. "I have explained Vietnam to you," he said.

Bishop

I said I did not understand. He showed two gold teeth. "Now you have it," he said. The white sun hurt my eyes. In front of the National Assembly Building, Vietnamese sentries dozed.

The street teemed with traffic. Pretty girls, wearing paneled dresses of blue and pink and orange, with white silk pants underneath, guided their Honda motorcycles between the U.S. Army trucks and jeeps.

We passed the Caravelle Hotel and went to the black market. It looked like three acres of corrugated tin. Everything from U.S. Army boots to American Kleenex was on sale. The merchants squat on the floor, squinting up at passing faces. They claim that the merchandise is stolen on the docks, and that the police own the black market.

The people do not understand honor or morals. In a good shop, the alien counts his change once more after it is in his palm. Young attractive girls with shiny black hair approached my friend, Wally Lehman, who is 71, and pressed his hands against the sides of their faces to make "sleep" motions to him. Other girls wait in the early morning bars for G.I.'s on leave.

At night, the sky is alight with 2,000,000 candle-power "chandeliers." These are dropped by Air Force pilots who receive radio reports of possible Viet Cong groups who hide in tall grass and fire mortar shells. To the north, heavy artillery fires II, and I (harassing and interdicting) shells at random into the dark quiet jungle. This is to let "Charlie" know that the Americans are alert.

The sunsets are palest yellow and blue across the reflective rice paddies. They die as though someone snapped the lights off. A Vietnamese soldier in front of the hotel fires three rounds. Jeeps pull up. He grins. He saw a rat. Missed him.

The newspapers, at this writing, are not censored. Two of them, the Saigon Post and the Saigon Daily News, are published in English. There are over 600 news correspondents here. What they are covering is a war of ambush. There is no front. There are no frontal battles.

Their weapon is sporadic terror. A lady on a bicycle lobs a hand grenade into a passing car. In theatres, poisoned darts and needles make small punctures.

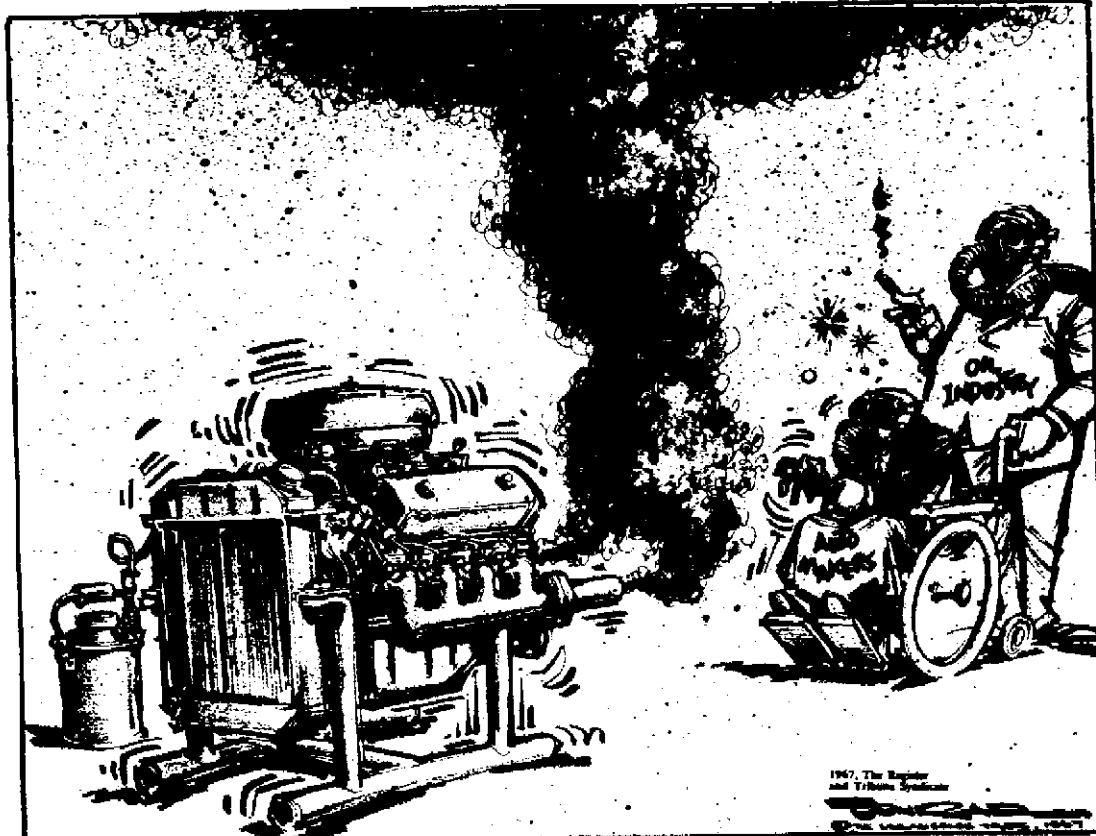

South Vietnam is religious. It is one-eighth Catholic, seven-eighths a conglomerate of Buddhism, Shintoism and hatred. Neither side permits God to interfere with the daily process of stealing. The only matter on which all agree is that nobody has an opinion. They say, in their native tongue, "One can not afford to think, because who knows which side will win and perhaps remove my head."

There are no facts; make no plans. The tall skinny American kid with the silly green fatigue hat and the big feet has an opinion. With one exception, they told me: "L.B.J. is right. In fact he ain't right enough. He ought to let us go up there in the north and kick the hell out of Ho and go home." The only exception stared me in the eye, and said: "We ought to pull out. Either the command is going to send me home or I'm going to make it on my own."

It is late now, and the neon lights shine the black macadam. Two slow planes drop chandeliers in the north section of the city. Somewhere nearby, an artillery piece coughs and the big mirror in this room shivers. The enemy is in front; he is behind. He works on the docks unloading American goods and he is on Tu Do Street in a coolie hat, grinning and bowing to M.P.'s who tell him to be on his way. The young girls do a tour of duty in twos. They stand in the corner doorways, sleek and slick. The doctors say that they can kill soldiers more insidiously than the Cong.

Salgon is an old French city, decayed to the foundations. It was intended for 200,000 people; it has more than 2,000,000. In some places, the people live seven to a room. They will carry your bag; get coffee; rent a scotch with dirty ice; rent a car and driver for 300 piastres an hour ($2.50); or stand in the sun without sweating.

There are no facts; make no plans. . . .

Observer Rules of 'The Club'

WASHINGTON — Congressmen who were pushing a strict meat inspection bill could have won their battle for the housewives if they hadn't observed the rules of "the club."

Shortly before the vote on the pro-housewives Meat Inspection Bill, Chairman William Poage, D-Tex., of the House Agriculture Committee, confided to Reps. Neal Smith, D-Iowa, and Thomas Foley, D-Wash., that Blaine Liljenquist of the western states meatpackers had sent a letter raising campaign funds for Congressmen who favored the meatpackers by limiting inspection of meat in intrastate commerce.

Poage got word of the letter, knew that every Congressman would have to vote against the lobby and for a tough meat inspection bill if it became public. So he called in Smith and Foley, talked to them in "strict confidence."

Pearson

They respected the rules of the "club" and said nothing. Had they tipped off the press to Liljenquist, brazen campaign funds tactics, public reaction would have been so strong that the tougher meat packing bill would have passed the House overwhelmingly. As it was, it was defeated by a non-recorded 140-40-38 teller vote.

It was no surprise that members of the House Agriculture Committee voted for the meatpackers and against the housewives. Few observers thought that a majority of Congressmen would dare to vote against the housewives on the open floor of the House. They got away with it, however, by taking a teller vote, not a roll call. When tellers are used, House members are counted numerically as they file quickly down the middle aisle. Their names are not recorded, therefore the housewives cannot be sure how they voted.

Before the teller vote, the meat lobbyists buttonholed Congressmen in the corridors and cloakrooms, then watched from the gallery to make sure they voted against federal inspection of plants now dumping bad meat on the intrastate market. The buttonhole brigade was led by Aled Davies, chief lobbyist for the American Meat Institute.

The meat lobby also organized a last-minute telephone campaign that deluged the Capitol switchboard with long-distance calls from meat packers and state officials back home who implored House members to vote against intrastate inspection or, at least, to stay off the floor. With only 238 of the 435 members voting, obviously a great number took the latter advice and ducked the vote.

Two who ducked were speaker John McCormack and Democratic Leader Carl Albert, the first aged, the second alive, who are supposed to guide the House but have left it partly rudderless this year. As Democratic leaders, they could hardly vote against President Johnson who has been pushing the tough Meat Inspection Bill.

But they also didn't want to vote against Poage who, as a powerful committee chairman, is part of the leadership alliance by which McCormack runs the House. So McCormack and Albert suddenly disappeared as the teller votes were being counted. The third member of the Democratic hierarchy, party whip Hale Boggs, was at home recovering from an operation.

Since the meat lobbyists were watching from the gallery and the housewives were home keeping house, most of the Congressmen evidently felt they could get away with casting anonymous ballots. However, this column was also watching from the gallery and was able to see how a few key Congressmen voted.

All the Republicans on the house floor voted for the meat packers and against the housewives except 12. Of the dozen, this column was able to identify Reps. William Cahill of New Jersey, Florence Dwyer of New Jersey, Gilbert Gude of Maryland, Thomas Pelly of Washington, and Seymour Halpern, Frank Horton and Theodore Kupferman, all of New York. They resisted the pressure from the meat lobbyists and cast their anonymous votes for federal inspection.

The housewives got most of their support from Democrats from Massachusetts, Michigan, New York, Ohio and Pennsylvania. They got little support from California, none at all from Georgia. All the Georgia Congressmen voted for the packers' right to sell bad meat.

Many of the California Democrats fled from the floor before the vote, but this column spotted one, Rep. Jeff Cohelan, lining up to vote for the housewives.

Most of the Democrats from Illinois, a big packing state, also skipped out on the vote. Only three were identified—Reps. Mel Price, Barratt O'Hara and William Murphy—voting for the housewives.

Florida has one of the worst meat problems in the nation, because 52 per cent of all meat slaughtered in the state's sweltering, often filthy, plants is not federally inspected. The 101 state inspectors, according to documented reports, have let a lot of bad meat get onto the meat counters. Nonetheless, this column spotted the following Florida Congressmen voting against the housewives—Charles Bennett, William Cramer, Dante Fascell and Don Fuqua.

The fight to permit tainted meat on the market was led, of course, by Bob Poage and, ironically, by Rep. Catherine May, R-Wash., who charmingly boasts of her legislative efforts for the American housewife. She was vigorous for the meat lobby. Poage lined up most of the Texas delegation behind his bad meat bill, including Reps. Omar Burleson, Earle Cabell, Bob Casey, John Dowdy, Eligio de la Garza, Graham Purcell and Jim Wright. This column spotted only four Texans voting for the housewives—Reps. Robert Eckhardt, Henry Gonzalez, Abraham Kazen and Wright Patman.

The strategy of the meat lobbyists to try to rush the bill through the Senate in a hurry before the housewives' lobby can get busy. Sen. Walter Mondale, D-Minn., has an excellent bill in the Senate, and if there's enough consumer support it could be substituted for the weaker House bill just passed.

Save on Taxes Now---VIII

(In collaboration with the Research Institute of America)

While you may find it sound tax strategy to take paper losses on your securities to cut your 1967 income tax, you certainly don't want to sell stocks which you expect to boom in price next year. What you are seeking are ways to give you your tax loss and still keep you in a position to benefit from a future market rise.

You can't achieve this just by having your broker sell your stock at a loss and immediately repurchase the identical shares. Unless there is more than a 30 day interval between your purchase and sale, your sale will be considered a "wash" sale and you won't be able to deduct the loss. Nor can you achieve this by having your wife repurchase the stock. Your sale would remain a wash sale if the repurchase took place within 30 days.

Porter

But there are three ways in which you can create your loss deduction and still retain your investment position.

(1) You can sell the securities on which you have a loss and simultaneously purchase shares in a similar company in the same industry. The sale gives you your capital loss. But since equivalent stocks of the same industry generally will fluctuate together, you will be in a position to gain with your substitute shares.

(2) If you feel your stock is likely to rise in the next 31 days and thus you don't want to lose your position in the initial company, double up your investment in the loss stock. Say your loss stock is 100 shares of American Telephone. Buy an additional 100 shares. More than 30 days later, sell the first 100 shares and take your capital loss. You still have 100 shares of Telephone. If Telephone stock has in fact rallied, you have made a profit.

(3) If you feel your stock is likely to decline in the next 31 days, sell your 100 shares now and take your capital loss. After 30 days, buy another 100 shares of Telephone. If your judgment is right, you will be buying back the stock cheaper than you sold it.

There was formerly a fourth widely used method to achieve taking a loss and yet keeping the same stock. This was to buy an extra 100 shares and immediately sell the identical 100 shares "short." After 30 days you delivered your original 100 shares to cover the short sale. The result was a loss on the old shares while leaving you at all times with the same 100-share position. This protected ed you from being whip-sawed by price fluctuations during the 30-day period. But this year, the Treasury specifically banned the use of this method by changing its regulations.

Here are two other important pointers in connection with your year-end securities transactions:

If you are realizing capital gains, be sure to heed the six-month deadline. If you don't hold your securities for more than six months, your gain will be fully taxable ordinary income. By waiting until just beyond the six-month deadline, you can cut your tax at least in half. To be eligible for the lower tax rate, you must hold your stock a day beyond six months. Thus, if you bought stock on May 9 and you sell it at a profit on Nov. 9, 1967, you have a fully taxable short-term capital gain. A sale one day later, Nov. 10, would give you a long-term capital gain. If you have a paper profit which you want to take in 1967 but on which you want to postpone paying tax until 1968, you can accomplish this by a short sale. Have your broker sell an identical block of the shares you own "short." This freezes your profit on your shares. But your gain won't be taxable until you cover the short sale by delivery of your shares and you can defer the covering until 1968.

On To '68 Election

HARRISBURG — With yesterday's election now one day deep in the pages of history, it's on to 1968 and a critical presidential election year.

The local runoffs yesterday formally marked the end of the 1967 election season for the Keystone State.

At the same time it signals the start of all-out strategy moves in preparation for the upcoming 1968 hoedown, which in addition to being a presidential election year is also a congressional and legislative election year!

It is true no gubernatorial run is in the books for 1968 — but for the Keystone State it's a big year, a critically important year.

Ere the dust has settled over the ballot boxes one year hence the question will have been answered as to whether Pennsylvania's legislative branch is to wind up in a split — as for example similar to the GOP Senate and Democratic House of Representatives as was the case only last year (and almost the case this year) — or whether both chambers will be aligned within the same party, and for that matter which, if either, will be aligned with the Governor!

Governor Shafer will be winding up the second year of his four-year term as Pennsylvania's second Republican chief executive since the Democratic demise of 1962. In the months ahead, as Governor and titular head of the GOP party in Pennsylvania, he is expected to have much to say as to what Pennsylvania's big, important bloc to the GOP presidential convention does next year. Thus the convention looms large on the horizon.

But also next year, Pennsylvania Republicans will be faced with the inescapable fact that while they are the majority party in the state — registration-wise — that majority is so thin as to be almost imperceptible. It is inconceivable that they will be successful in ballooning their present 9507 edge to anything approaching the 110,000 edge Democrats enjoyed only two short years ago!

This then means Keystone State GOPsters will already have one strike against them — theoretically — which may or may not prove to be the case in the final analysis, depending upon how well they can muster their registration forces in the interim.

After all, Mr. Scranton moved into office in 1963 notwithstanding a healthy Democratic registration edge — and both Democratic Governors Leader and Lawrence before him hit home runs notwithstanding GOP leads in their campaigns! And for that matter, Mr. Shafer hit home last year in spite of a Democratic edge.

Thus the registration edge phase is not regarded with the critical eye of years gone by — though it still remains a factor.

But of equal concern to the strategists of both parties in their strategy thinking is the complexion of the Legislature that will emerge from next year's balloting.

In more recent years the legislative branch has assumed a much greater degree of importance than ever before — and understandably.

A split Legislature or worse than this, one in which both House and Senate are in opposition hands — that is, in opposition to the political party of the Governor — can do more to throttle an administration than any other single factor. (It is almost in that position at the moment — which is why the Governor and the Legislature are stalemated!)

In fact it has reached the point now where the complexion of the legislative branch is viewed by many as of equal importance (politically) to the office of Governor.

And again — the present 1967 session perhaps illustrates precisely why.

For example, during the past few months, Mr. Shafer might just as well have faced a legislative branch dominated by opposition Democrats — in fact he has done just that for the simple reason that defections within his own party in both House and Senate (where in each chamber there has not been a single seat to spare) have in a sense placed the two chambers in opposition hands!

Had this no-vote-to-spare margin not persisted, the current session unquestionably would have ended long ago and the Governor would not be in the boxed-in position he finds himself today.

Yesterday's general election may have indeed joined the pages of history but for Republicans looking to next year the fight has begun.

NEWS ANALYSIS

Business and City Problems

By ALBERT L. KRAUS

(C) N.Y. Times News Service

NEW YORK — John Kenneth Galbraith notwithstanding, business seems determined to involve itself in the problems of the cities.

Almost daily some new business leader addresses himself to the task, evoking wonder among such diverse observers as the Wall Street Journal and the columnist Murray Kempton.

The Journal finds that business support for various elements of the antipoverty program has completely confused the outlook for congressional extension of the act. Even the National Association of Manufacturers, it notes, is casting a rare affirmative vote—with important conditions, of course.

Kempton tries to explain business interest in the cities as a shift in fashion:

"Business has found the styles of which government is already weary. Two years is the normal span between the moment a social evil is seized as a challenge and the moment when it is pushed away as an inconvenience. Business has not yet run the course."

Galbraith has amended what originally was interpreted as his rejection of a role for private business in making the ghettos livable. The amendment, however, does little to dispel the suspicion that the Harvard economist, who gave name to the conventional wisdom, has taken to purveying it.

Professor Galbraith no longer predicts utter failure for all business efforts to rehabilitate the slums. He now condemns only efforts founded solely in good intentions. This truism, which could apply equally to governmental efforts, can hardly be expected to win friends in the business community.

On the other hand, the suspicion is not allayed that Galbraith is saying exactly what many in his audience secretly are hoping to hear—that the problems of the ghettos are too overwhelming to be susceptible to solution by them, here and now, that no involvement is necessary, that only government, impersonal and distant, need respond.

The suspicion grows that, perhaps unwittingly, what the professor is saying would permit the white community once more to shrug off its moral debt to its Negro neighbors.

Fifteen years ago, the lure of lower wages and escape from the unions caused the New England and woolen and worsted industry to follow cotton textiles to the south. In less than a decade, employment in the industry fell to one-tenth its former size.

Although perhaps envious, not all industry could follow. The utilities, retail stores, real estate owners, banks and insurance companies were forced to stay behind. So were the newspapers, which do not always think of themselves as profit-making institutions.

To find new industry to replace the old, and thus to prop up their own sagging underpinnings, these locally based businesses helped to set up regional development corporations. Their aim: to marshal the capital and provide incentive to bring new business to the region.

The development corporations were empowered to make loans, for instance, to small and growing businesses—but only after the loan applications were certified by banks or other lenders as not creditworthy.

Very soon, it became apparent that the development corporations were making only a few loans. A failure of private industry, the critics shouted.

Investigation, however, proved something quite different. The bankers, insurance company executives, and other lenders who sat on the boards of the development corporations—and who had certified the loans as not creditworthy—discovered that 90 per cent of the loans they had rejected were bankable.

But this happened only after the professionals in the development corporations had spent days in consultation with the managements of the new companies, had induced them to change certain of their operations and procedures, and had helped them to restructure their loan applications.

Already, in the few weeks since their plan was announced, the 348 insurance companies that have pledged themselves to invest $1 billion in ghetto areas have made a similar discovery. They have found that workable projects are far harder to come by than funds to invest.

The unpleasant realization is now dawning that the industry will have to step into the slums to develop such projects or a substantial community relations liability will result.

As a result, some members of the industry are complaining that they were mousetrapped, that they never intended their effort to become the subject of a presidential announcement or to have it receive the publicity it did.

The reasons are compelling. The Negro must be given a sense of community, of wanting his area to progress, and of sharing in its advance. He must be permitted the pride—and the responsibility—of ownership. Ways must be found to reverse the flight of industry to the suburbs, to bring jobs within walking distance of the people who live in the ghettos.

If private industry is permitted to abdicate these obligations, the present view of the problem as one of "we" and "they" will be perpetuated. But if private industry can be brought into the ghetto, the gain for the Negro will not be the only one. The whole community, white and Negro, will share.

Final Moon Rocket Test Set For Thursday

By LAWRENCE LEE
AP Aerospace Writer
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Workmen yesterday loaded the power system of the Apollo spacecraft to be lifted tomorrow in the first test of the Saturn 5 moon rocket, the biggest thing ever built to fly.

As count clicked down past minus two days, the weather team tested gusts from the cold t h a t refrigerated the Cape area Sunday and Monday. They said winds will be high and seas rough tomorrow morning, but likely will not interfere with Saturn 5's flight.

Prelaunch work went smoothly. Restraining arms that will hug the rocket until it revs up to top power were loaded with explosives that will blast them open to free that vehicle.

The Apollo spacecraft, like the one that will carry astronauts on the moon trip, was loaded yesterday with supercold gases that run its fuel cell electrical supply.

The rocket is to fly at 7 p.m. EST tomorrow, but the space agency can launch as late as midday if holds develop in the countdown.

The 8½-hour flight is to send the Apollo ship and the Saturn's third stage into a low parking orbit. After one revolution, the third stage is to re-start, taking the craft out 11,400 miles for a fiery plunge home at 25,000 miles per hour, the speed of a ship coming home from the moon.

The Apollo command module is to encounter temperatures up to 4,500 degrees as it skips into the atmosphere over the Pacific. It is to drop gently by parachutes northwest of Hawaii and be claimed from the sea. Weather forecast for the recovery zone was good yesterday.

Aside from qualifying an intended workhorse rocket of the American space program and the man-protective shield of the Apollo ship, the flight will test the design of the quick-escape hatch devised after the Jan. 27 fire which killed three astronauts.

If the 36-story-high, 6,000-ton Saturn 5 goes tomorrow, it will be the finale to one of America's busiest space weeks in months. Sunday, the third Applications Technology Satellite was launched from Cape Kennedy. Yesterday's report on the television eye satellite said its pictures were good and that it was slowly drifting to its permanent post 22,000 miles above the mouth of the Amazon River.

Surveyor 6, launched early yesterday, was on course to the moon, locked onto its guide star, Canopus. Scientists at the Jet propulsion Laboratory in Pasadena, Calif., readied Tuesday for a mid-course correction which would take it to a landing tomorrow night in Sinus Medii, a pock-marked plain in the middle of the moon's visible face.

Surveyor 6 was to give the space agency a look at the last of four proposed astronaut landing areas along the moon's equator. Computers said its odds of success was a little less than 50-50.

Hussein Calls on Israel To Match Arab Approach

(c) N.Y. Times News Service
WASHINGTON—King Hussein of Jordan yesterday called on Israel to match what he called "the new and positive approach of the Arabs" toward a Middle East settlement by "offering some terms for us to consider."

The king, apparently trying to put Israel on the diplomatic defensive, asserted that if she wants to become "an acceptable neighbor" to the Arabs, Israel must "propose" a solution for the problem of Arab refugees from Palestine and must "return the land (the Israelis) have occupied."

In a speech to the National Press Club, his second major address in two days, the 31-year-old Jordanian monarch stated that absorption of the former Arab sector of Jerusalem into the state of Israel "is totally unacceptable and intolerable" to the Arabs.

Reasserting Arab demands for Israel's withdrawal from conquered Arab lands, the king noted that "from the standpoint of the United Nations, there is only one legal Israel, and that is the one created by the partition plan of Palestine of 1947."

He added that Israel's boundaries were considerably smaller than the territory within the armistice lines of 1949 or the cease-fire lines following last June's fighting.

Although the king repeatedly emphasized what he called the new moderation in the Arab world and its desire "for a just and lasting peace," his tone seemed tougher than it was during his initial public appearance on television last Sunday.

Then, he alluded to some of the concessions he said the Arabs were prepared to make and made little of their political demands on Israel. By contrast, yesterday he emphasized Arab demands and did not go into any detail about Arab concessions.

Postmasters Issue List Of Holiday Mailing Dates

Postmaster Frank A. Fago, speaking on behalf of the Warren-Forest County postal area, issued a reminder list of mailing dates for Christmas gifts and parcels.

The Warren postal official said these are final deadlines suggested by the post office department to make sure all mail is delivered on time.

"If the public mails on or before these suggested deadlines," Fago explained, "there will not be a last minute jam up in the mail stream caused by the massive influx of mail which will be more than an already overburdened postal system can handle."

"We are asking that the public cooperate by shopping early, mailing early and using ZIP codes to encourage the most efficient Christmas postal operation ever."

The postmaster noted that special attention will again be placed on delivery of mail for servicemen in Vietnam and the surrounding area, and encouraged the use of APO and FPO numbers on all military mail. Deadline for mail to all members of the Armed Forces abroad are: Gifts weighing five pounds or more sent by surface postage rates, Nov. 11; Gifts five pounds or less, plus letters and greeting cards sent at surface rates (these go by air on space available basis), Dec. 1; Air Mail gifts and greetings, Dec. 11.

Deadlines for domestic military and civilian mail are: Domestic Surface Mail, gifts to distant states, Dec. 4; greeting cards to distant states, Dec. 10; gifts and greeting cards to nearby areas, Dec. 13; Domestic Air Mail—gifts and greeting cards, Dec. 19; deadlines for overseas civilian mail—remote areas off main air routes, Dec. 1; areas on heavily traveled routes, Dec. 10.

Additional postal information is available at local post offices throughout the area. In Warren telephone 723-1660.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — Mrs. Margaret A. Crossley, 80, got a free ride to the polls yesterday.

Protection For 'Jackie' Is Approved

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate completed congressional action yesterday on a bill continuing Secret Service protection for Mrs. John F. Kennedy and her children until March 1, 1969.

The bill now goes to the White House for President Johnson's signature.

Sponsors said Mrs. Kennedy had not asked for the continued protection but that the Treasury Department felt it should be furnished because she still is a sought-after public figure.

They estimated the annual cost at $210,000.

British Economy On the Move

(c) N.Y. Times News Service
LONDON — The British economy, severely slowed by the Labor government last year, is on the move again but under a tight government rein, James Callaghan, chancellor of the exchequer, declared yesterday.

However, Callaghan, speaking in a House of Commons debate on economic policy, acknowledged disappointment that a faster growth in exports, a primary objective of the curbed domestic demand, had not been achieved.

Despite the complaints of Labor party members from areas of continued high unemployment, the chancellor said no further measures to spur expansion were planned. Policies will be accentuated to help the depressed regions, such as Scotland and Wales, he said, rather than to reflate the entire economy.

The government was assailed in the debate by the conservative party financial critic, Ian MacLeod, who declared that Britain had "the worst of all possible worlds, heavy unemployment and a weak pound."

Referring to labor setbacks in three recent by-elections, MacLeod contended the results showed "a fierce dislike and distrust of this government." He asserted the Labor party had produced more unemployment and less growth than the Tories.

The Unforgettable Thanksgiving Pie

For pottage and puddings and custards and pie. Our pumpkins and parsnips are common supplies. We have pumpkins at morning and pumpkins at noon. If it were not for pumpkins, we should be undone! Early American Verse

Pumpkin was indeed a mainstay of the diet of our early settlers, and even today it's still high on the list of all-time flavor favorites—especially when it comes to pie. Coconut-Praline Pumpkin Pie is a delectable dessert in the rich tradition of country-good, home-baked pie. But unlike old-fashioned desserts, this pie can be made mix-easy without long hours of preparation. You start with a golden, flaky pastry made from Betty Crocker Pie Crust Sticks or Mix—a perfect pastry

NEW VARIATION

It wouldn't be Thanksgiving without Pumpkin Pie and here is a new variation, Coconut-Praline Pumpkin Pie, that will prove a great favorite with your family, this year and many years to come.

that's tender and rich. The double layered filling boasts a chewy coconut-pecan layer made with pecan halves and a package of Betty Crocker Coconut-Pecan Frosting Mix and is topped with a layer of traditional pumpkin pie made with eggs, pumpkin, sugar, evaporated milk and spices. What could be easier?

And you get both of these 9-inch pies—perfect for family-size dinners—from just one package of frosting mix and one can each of pumpkin and evaporated milk. Serve Coconut-Praline Pumpkin Pie soon—it's a perfect dessert for the fall and holiday season.

Here is the recipe from the Betty Crocker Kitchens.

COCONUT - PRALINE PUMPKIN PIE
1 package pie crust mix
1 package coconut-pecan frosting mix
1/2 cup milk
3/4 cup pecan halves
2 eggs
1 can (1 pound) pumpkin
3/4 cup sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon ginger
1/4 teaspoon cloves
1 can (14 1/2 ounces) evaporated

milk OR 1 2 3 cups light cream
Heat oven to 425 degrees. Prepare pastry for TWO 9-inch One-Crust Pies as directed on package. Prepare frosting mix as directed on package except—increase milk to 1/2 cup and stir in pecan halves with the coconut-pecan mixture. Spread half of frosting mixture in each pastry-lined pie pan. Beat eggs slightly; with rotary beater, blend in remaining ingredients. Pour over mixture in pie pans. Cover edge with 1 1/2-inch strip of aluminum foil to prevent excessive browning. Bake 15 minutes; reduce oven temperature to 350 degrees and bake 45 minutes longer or until knife inserted 1-inch from edge comes out clean. Makes two 9-inch pies.

It's America's most popular! Why?

We think it's excellence of product.

Years and years ago, when we decided to bake

Jane Parker Fruit Cake, we also decided to bake the best.

That's why Jane Parker Fruit Cake was then and is today over 2/3 fruits and nuts.

Just enough delicious cake to hold together the bounty of cherries imported from France, pineapple from the Far East, citron from Italy, sun-drenched raisins from California and meaty pecans from the South.

We think, too, that value has made it popular.

IMAGINE, THE 5-LB. CAKE COSTS ONLY $3.99.

That's the same low price as last year which makes it an even greater value.

Now you know why Jane Parker Fruit Cake is America's most popular.

One other thing you should know: You can buy it only at A&P.

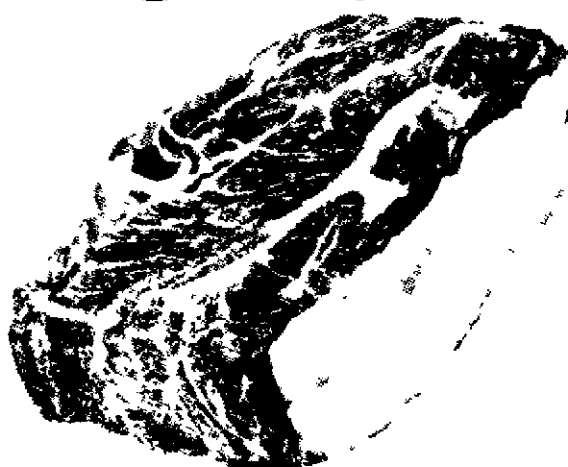

P.S. Wouldn't it make a great gift for someone?

Florida State's Hammond Leads Nation in Offense

NEW YORK (AP) — Kim Hammond of Florida State has rushed up from seventh place to take the lead in total offense among the nation's major-college football players.

Hammond, a senior, gained 308 total yards in last Saturday's 26-7 victory over Memphis State, boosting his season aggregate to 1,580 yards. Sal Olivas of New Mexico State is second with 1,478 yards, statistics compiled by National Collegiate Sports Services, showed yesterday.

Terry Stone of New Mexico, last week's pace-setter, slipped to seventh in total offense. However, he maintained his lead in passing with 127 completions in 272 attempts for 1,662 yards.

O. J. Simpson of Southern California retained the No. 1 position in rushing although a foot injury prevented him from playing in last Saturday's game against California. Simpson has gained 1,050 yards, 122 more than Max Anderson of Arizona State, who holds second place.

Zenon Andrusyshyn of UCLA climbed into first place in punting with a 43.80 yard average. He holds a slim lead over Tom Galloway of the University of Texas at El Paso, averaging 43.77 yards.

Philadelphia Eagles Ink Patriots' Ex-QB Huarte

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Philadelphia Eagles of the National Football League signed yesterday John Huarte, former Notre Dame Heisman Trophy winner and American Football League quarterback.

Huarte was assigned to the taxi squad.

Eagles coach Joe Kuharich, who recruited and coached Huarte at Notre Dame, said the quarterback will report and start working out with the Eagles today. No contract terms were disclosed.

The Eagles' roster was down to 37, three below maximum as a result of injuries suffered Sunday by tackle Bob Brown, defensive back Ron Medved and tight end Mike Ditka.

Huarte was drafted by Philadelphia in the sixth round of the NFL draft in 1965. He was also the second round choice of the AFL New York Jets. The Jets picked quarterback Joe Namath on the first round. Huarte signed for a reported $200,000 with the Jets.

After the 1965 season, Huarte was traded to Boston. He played some there, and last month Huarte was waived out of the AFL.

Huarte and Kuharich met here before the Eagles-Dallas game Oct. 29. They met again and agreed on terms.

National Loop Stax Dominated by Kelly

NEW YORK (AP) — Leroy Kelly is not only the National Football League's leading rusher but also first in total yardage for rushing and pass receiving.

Counting only those who have picked up at least 100 yards in each department, the Cleveland back is setting the pace with 889 yards on 666 rushing and 223 with passes. Official NFL statistics were released yesterday.

Johnny Roland of St. Louis is second in both rushing and the two-way totals with 645-138—789. Ernie Green, Kelly's backfield partner, is third with 428-310—738.

Kelly was the rushing leader a week ago and most of last week's pace-setters still hold the top rungs.

The other holdover leaders include Sonny Jurgensen, Washington, passes; Willie Richardson, Baltimore, pass receiving; 39 catches; Jim Bakken, St. Louis, scoring, 90 and Pat Studstill, Detroit, punting, 45.4 yards average.

Dave "The Weasel" Whitsett of New Orleans has moved into sole possession of first place in pass interceptions with seven. Ben Davis of Cleveland has gone to the front in punting with 190 yards for an average of 13.6 and Gale Sayers of Chicago, has taken the lead in kickoff returns with an average of 38.3 yards. Sayers was the champ in kickoff returns and rushing last year.

Jurgensen has completed 153 of 264 passes for 58.0 percent, 2,038 yards, 77.2 average yards, and 14 touchdowns. He has had only seven interceptions. The passing standings are based on percentage, touchdowns, percentage of interceptions, and average gain.

Boys, Parents Welcome at Booster Event

The Warren Sports Boosters have extended a special invitation to WAHS and Peaty JHS football players, and their parents, to attend tonight's meeting, the last of the grid season.

The meeting will be held in the exhibition area, next to the auditorium, at the high school starting at 8 p.m.

Movies of Saturday's victory over Bradford in both 8mm and 16mm will be shown. Dragon Head Coach Toby Shea will comment on the films and recap the 1967 season.

Coffee and doughnuts will be served by the Booster auxiliary following the program.

THE FEET IN FOOTBALL??

Ballcarriers seemed to spend more time on their heads than on their feet in last weekend's games, as the three pictures at top prove. At far left, the feet belong to Princeton's Ellis Moore, who scored a touchdown from the one-yard line against Brown. In the middle photo, Joe Scarpatti of the Philadelphia Eagles is upended after intercepting a New Orleans Saints pass. Above, it's Yale fullback Don Burrows standing on his head for the third Eli touchdown in the romp over Harvard. A win by the Saints was the only "upset" in the three games.

The 'Cream' Comes To Top in East at Yale

By DUFFY DAUGHERTY

Head Football Coach

Michigan State University

With the college season 70 per cent finished you can expect to find hats on your milk bottles. That's what we used to call it as kids around the Pennsylvania coal fields when the cream came to the top and would freeze.

Well the same thing is happening in all sections of the country. Certain football teams are demonstrating their leadership and this week our hat — not the milk bottle variety — goes off to Coach Carmen Cozza and his Yale Bulldogs. The Eli certainly is seeing the cream come to the top late in the season.

Yale is the most improved team in the East and from what we've heard has a tremendous quarterback in Chuoan Brian Dowling. This gifted signal caller underwent a knee operation last year and broke a bone in his hand just before the season began.

Dowling never has played in a losing game at Yale and never has had the benefit of collegiate spring practice. Yet, in the three games he has played this fall Yale shows 118 points against 29. In the 56-15 rout of unbeaten Dartmouth, Dowling played with his right wrist taped but led ground gainers with 192 yards.

His play selection on Coach Cozza's multiple T that includes I and single wing formations is amazing. He runs, passes and knows exactly how to feed the ball.

Gator Bowl List

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)

—North Carolina State, one of four major undefeated, untied football teams in the country, plus once-beaten Tennessee, Alabama, Oklahoma, Virginia Tech and Army are high on a list of 19 schools getting the once-over from the Gator Bowl Association for the Dec. 30 game.

Other impressive Elises include Cal Hill, a fine back, and defensive tackles Glenn Greenberg, a son of famed Hank, and Paul Tully, who reported a year ago at 270 pounds and now has speed and quickness at 228. He's eating one meal a day on a weird diet and probably can't wait until his season ends Nov. 25 with the annual Harvard clash.

Yale looks like the Ivy League champion and has a fine shot at the Lambert Trophy, emblematic of the Eastern title. Army and Penn State have a few supporters, too.

You almost have to discount Yale's 26-14 opening game loss to Holy Cross. Yale had no spring practice and that first game was a giveaway. Yale had the ball 18 times against the Crusaders and gave it away eight times — five fumbles and three interceptions. Since then Cozza's crew has allowed only five TDs in five games and is one of the nation's defensive leaders.

In the Midwest, Purdue gets better each week. The Boilermakers are averaging 30.7 points a game and there seems to be no way anyone in the Big Ten can keep versatile Leroy Keyes off the scoreboard.

Saturday may tell the real story on Purdue and Keyes. In Minnesota the Boilermakers face a Gopher team that has allowed only six TDs in seven games.

Big Eight standout Oklahoma is worthy of Top Ten ranking. The Sooners, the surprise team of the country, have come back all the way in their first year under Coach Chuck Fairbanks, a fine end on our first Spartan team in 1954.

In holding a good Colorado team scoreless, Oklahoma became the nation's toughest team to score against. The Sooners have permitted only two TDs and a total of 17 points for a 2-8 defense against scoring. This is a hard-nosed football team that nobody will push around. The Sooners will be on national TV on Thanksgiving Day against Nebraska, another tough defensive team. I don't know who to root for, Nebraska Coach Bob Devaney once was our top aide.

Southern California, a team we nearly beat, still has to be ranked at the top. This week the Trojans play the spoilers, Oregon State — the team that upset Purdue and tied unbeaten UCLA.

Tennessee, opening day loser by 20-16 to UCLA, seems headed for the Southeastern crown. The Vols get a break because they are not scheduled with Georgia, another titan on defense.

One of the biggest surprises in the South is unbeaten North Carolina State, a team that beat Florida State and Houston on successive weeks. The Wolfpack looks like the Atlantic Coast Conference champ and headed for a bowl.

Just because Wyoming is far removed from the large metropolitan news media and doesn't get national attention, don't hold this team lightly. The Cowboys have won all eight and could go unbeaten. People seem to forget they left the cold north and beat Florida State in the Sun Bowl.

Raiders Top AFL Club For Defense

NEW YORK (AP) — The Oakland Raiders are reflecting an improvement in defense among American Football League teams noted by two of the circuit's coaches.

The Raiders, leading the AFL's Western Division with a 7-1 record, have strengthened their first-place margin in team defense, the latest statistics revealed yesterday.

Oakland has yielded an average of only 186.5 yards a game and led runner-up Buffalo by 50.9 yards a game. The Raiders led by 29.3 yards last week.

"I've said right along the biggest trend in the American Football League has been the improvement in defense," said Mike Holovak, coach of the Boston Patriots. "I guess this is being proven right this year."

"There are more sound defenses around," stated Joe Collier, the Buffalo pilot. "There used to be garbage defenses around that were used to try and merely get by a particular game with. Now all teams play sound defensively."

San Diego continues to lead in team offense with an average gain of 386.7 yards a game. The New York Jets are second with 374.6 followed by Kansas City, 355.4.

Hawks Hang Tough to Whip Bulls

CHICAGO (AP) — The red-hot St. Louis Hawks blew a 17-point lead but came back in the final minute of play last night to defeat the Chicago Bulls 111-106 in a National Basketball Association contest.

The victory was the 12th in 13 games for the Western Division leaders while the Bulls lost for the 10th time in 11 tries.

The Hawks, who led 51-34 in the second quarter, left the floor at halftime leading 61-53. The Bulls, led by Barry Clemens and Keith Erickson, enabled Chicago to grab a 67-64 lead in the third quarter.

Chicago trailed by as many as five points in the fourth quarter but tied the score at 98-98 on a pair of free throws and a basket by Bob Boozer.

The game remained at a tie until Paul Silas and Joe Caldwell connected on jump shots for a 108-104 St. Louis advantage. Silas added another free throw in the final minute to insure the Bulls of their 10th loss of the year.

Zelmo Beaty topped the St. Louis scorers with 24 points. Boozer led the Bulls with 25 points.

Most Valuable Player

Orlando Cepeda, who led the St. Louis Cardinals to the National League pennant, was a unanimous selection yesterday as the senior loop's Most Valuable player. Cepeda, who batted .325, hit 25 homers and collected 111 RBI's, drew 280 points to 136 for runner-up Tim McCarver of the Cards and 129 for Pittsburgh's Roberto Clemente. (See story at right)

Orlando Praises Cards' Trainer for Hard Work

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — Orlando Cepeda praised the St. Louis Cardinals' trainer, Clarence Bauman, when informed yesterday he had been an unanimous choice as the National League's Most Valuable Player.

"I want to thank Bauman for his hard work that helped me to recover from my injured knee," the Cards' slugging first baseman said. Cepeda has been plagued with knee trouble during most of his 10-year big league career and was on the disabled list for three months in 1965.

"I feel very proud," Cepeda added, referring to the award.

"This is so big, especially when I was so close to quitting baseball because of the knee injury. It's a great honor for me and my people."

Roberto Clemente, also a Puerto Rican native, won the NL MVP in 1966.

Orlando Praises Cards' Trainer for Hard Work

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP) — Orlando Cepeda praised the St. Louis Cardinals' trainer, Clarence Bauman, when informed yesterday he had been an unanimous choice as the National League's Most Valuable Player.

"I want to thank Bauman for his hard work that helped me to recover from my injured knee," the Cards' slugging first baseman said. Cepeda has been plagued with knee trouble during most of his 10-year big league career and was on the disabled list for three months in 1965.

"I feel very proud," Cepeda added, referring to the award.

"This is so big, especially when I was so close to quitting baseball because of the knee injury. It's a great honor for me and my people."

Erie Man 1 of 27 Arrested In Raids on Crime Operation

By JIM NICHOLS
Associated Press Writer
LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Striking in a widespread series of raids Monday night and early yesterday, police arrested 27 persons on a range of charges that included gambling, auto theft, armed robbery and conspiracy to murder.

Michigan Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley said the arrested persons were part of a single "large-scale criminal operation" which had branched out from Flint, Mich., to other parts of Michigan and to Ohio and Pennsylvania.

Kelley said warrants had been issued for the arrest of another 11 persons. One of the arrests was made in Erie, Pa. The other 26 were in Michigan.

Of the 27 jailed, 24 were charged with conspiring to violate Michigan gambling laws in what Kelley described as a $100,000-a-week football betting operation in Detroit, suburban Livonia, Flint and LaPeere, Mich.

Five persons also were charged with conspiracy to murder Charles Thomas, 49, who was shot twice in the head in a Pittsburgh area motel. Police said Thomas had been working with them to help break a counterfeiting ring.

Thomas, who survived the execution attempt, has identified a sixth man—Loren Jolly of Flint—as the man who shot him, police said. Jolly was arrested Oct. 4 and is being held in Cleveland on charges of conspiracy to commit murder, conspiracy to pass stolen checks, and the armed robbery of a Flint jewelry store.

Three of the persons arrested overnight also were charged in connection with the same hold-up. Three were held on bad-check charges and three were accused of pandering or conspiracy to pander.

Kelley said a two-month investigation of the alleged crime ring involved his office, Federal agents, and police in Flint, Detroit, Livonia, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

"The investigation revealed that several individuals originally operating out of the Flint area had set up a large-scale criminal operation and had been involved in robberies, burglaries, check passing, car theft, prostitution operations and gambling in various parts of Michigan and in Ohio and Pennsylvania," Kelley said.

The same persons and others, Kelley added, were involved in a $100,000-a-week football betting operation in which betting cards were circulated in Michigan bars and factories.

Arrested in Pennsylvania was Caesar Montevocchio of Erie, Pa., who was charged by federal officials with conspiring to transport betting paraphernalia in interstate commerce, and with traveling and conspiring to travel across state lines to promote gambling.

Montevocchio was charged by Michigan authorities with conspiracy to murder and with the Aug. 15 jewelry store robbery. Joseph Giacalone, 28, of Flint, was charged in federal warrants involving four gambling counts and interstate transportation of a stolen motor vehicle. He was charged in Michigan warrants with conspiring to

Higher Food Prices Appear in the Offing

By OVID A. MARTIN
AP Farm Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Higher election year food prices appear in the offing as American agriculture puts finishing touches on a 1968 production pattern designed to hold supplies below this year's record levels.

Reductions are planned not only in crops but in livestock as well. They would come at a time when world hunger is arising problem. At best, there is little chance that production would keep pace with the population increase.

The goal of farm planning for next year is to bring increases in farm prices. These in turn would be expected to result in higher retail prices.

These plans are an outgrowth of economic setbacks in agriculture this year, including lower prices, lower farm income and higher costs. Farm prices have been running 6 per cent below last year and farm income will turn out between 5 and 10 per cent below 1966.

Farm officials declare the planned production curbs would not lessen this country's ability to provide food aid abroad. They say that's because of this year's record U.S. production—together with generally good crops abroad.

Some of the planned cutback is being recommended by the Agriculture Department under its supply stabilization programs. These include smaller crops of wheat, corn, sorghum grain and other feed grains; the raw materials for bread and for meat, milk and poultry products.

Other reductions are contemplated on a number of products not subject to federal controls. These include eggs, turkeys, milk and possibly beef cattle and hogs.

In the case of price-depressed eggs, the department will help poultry men by offering to buy some of their laying hens which would be diverted to chicken meat for welfare use.

The department also is cautioning farmers against increasing hog production lest prices of pork be depressed to unprofitable levels.

Likewise, leaders of the beef cattle industry are urging feeders to resist any inclination to increase production of feed cattle for slaughter.

The number of dairy cows is expected to continue a long decline with the production of milk falling slightly below this year's level, which was smaller than last year's.

In another move to bolster prices, the department is recommending against any increase in the production of winter vegetables. A 5 per cent decrease in winter potatoes has been recommended.

World News Report

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
In the news around the world:
TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — The Shah of Iran formally opened yesterday the new port of Bandar Abbas in the Persian gulf, the biggest deepwater harbor in the Middle East.

The $36-million project was completed in 3½ years by the Iranian planners and American contractors. The U.S. Agency for Development put up a $15-million loan with 3 per cent interest payable in 24 years.

The harbor can berth six ocean-going freighters at once.

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — A member of Parliament and two metropolitan councilors were among 30 demonstrators arrested near the Parliament building yesterday. They were demanding a national ban on the slaughter of sacred cows.

The demonstration was held despite a ban on public gatherings of more than five people near Parliament.

MANILA (AP) — Forty persons have been confirmed killed in the sinking of the Mindoro, an interisland ship, in the central Philippines during Typhoon Emma last weekend. Latest reports said 155 persons had been saved and seven still were missing.

The count of typhoon victims stood at 89 known dead, including 23 killed when a bus plunged into a river.

ROME (AP) — The only birth control pills that Pope Paul VI might approve are those that prevent conception. The Rev. Giacomo Perico, an Italian Jesuit member of the Pope's birth control commission, said Tuesday.

Writing in La Civiltà Cattolica, a Jesuit periodical, Father Perico said the "day after" pills developed by American scientists and the "month after" pills produced in Sweden would not be approved because they cause women to abort.

He said the Pope might find morally acceptable the pills developed by Dr. Gregory Pincus of the United States, which prevent conception. The birth control commission submitted its recommendations last year. The Pope has not indicated when he will announce whether the Roman Catholic ban on mechanical and chemical contraceptives will be modified.

4 Auto Plants Strike Before Deadline

By KIT KINCADE
Associated Press Writer
DETROIT (AP) — Facing a strike deadline less than 36 hours away, the United Auto Workers and Chrysler Corp. yesterday headed into long bargaining sessions for new contracts covering 103,000 employees, some of whom have already walked off the job.

More than 6,000 union members at four Chrysler plants in Michigan, Missouri and Delawere stopped work yesterday, well ahead of tonight's midnight strike deadline imposed by the union.

One of the walkouts came at the Sterling Stamping plant near Detroit, where about 2,000 men left work early or did not appear at their scheduled time.

Without specifying which ones, a Chrysler spokesman said some plants would have to be closed today — settlement or not — if the walkout persisted through the night at its Sterling facility, one of two important Chrysler stamping plants. The other is at Twinsburg, Ohio.

A General Motors plant in Norwood, Ohio, was hit by a one-day strike over new contract demands for 4,000 workers.

Chrysler and GM employees have been working without a contract since Sept. 6 when three-year pacts expired at all

Big Three firms and the union struck Ford.

Meanwhile, Ford said all but four of its 16 assembly plants would be back in full production by today. Three of the four, Dallas, Tex., St. Louis, Mo., and Lorain, Ohio, still have not settled individual plant contracts. Tentative agreement was reached Thursday at Wixom, Mich.

Union and company negotiating teams, led by UAW President Walter P. Reuther and John D. Leary, Chrysler vice president for administration, returned to the bargaining table yesterday morning. A union spokesman said the strikes at the three Chrysler plants were not authorized by the international union.

At Chrysler, the union is seeking a pact matching the general economic terms of the record agreement won from Ford on Oct. 22. Ford workers got roughly $1 an hour more in wages and fringe benefits, above the old Big Three level of $4.70 an hour.

Parade Shows Off Red Military Might

By HENRY KAMM
(c) N.Y. Times News Service
MOSCOW—Five new types of Soviet missiles rumbled across the cobblestones of Red Square yesterday in a military review that climaxed the jubilee celebration of a half-century of Soviet rule.

The biggest of the new weapons was an intercontinental ballistic missile equal estimated to be about 110 feet long. Western military experts believed the rocket was not an improved version of an existing weapon but new in design.

No details were made known. Speaking of the various I.C.B.M.'s paraded across Red Square, Tass, the Soviet press agency, declared that the mammoth rockets of the Soviet Union could be used for intercontinental or orbital launchings and could deliver nuclear warheads of tremendous power. Not a single army in the world has such warheads, Tass said.

Although no distinct divisions were visible on the missile, experts believed it to be a three-stage vehicle powered by liquid fuel.

The other new missiles were: —An intermediate or medium-range ballistic missile in two stages. —A tactical missile of a probable range of from 100 to 200 miles. —A naval missile, probably for launching by submarine. Experts were unable to tell whether it was a single stage or two-stage rocket.

—An antiaircraft missile, probably for targets in low to medium altitudes, towed by a carrier.

The only other weapon not previously seen was an armored reconnaissance vehicle with an antitank missile mounted on top of its guns.

Military experts agreed that although the display of military equipment was intended to prove the Soviet Union's continuing stress on missile development, it did not disclose any radically new weapons.

Contrasting with the space-age weaponry was a display of the earlier military power that established and defended Soviet rule in the bloody civil war that followed the revolution.

Under brilliant sunshine, squadrons of cavalrymen pranced across the square, sabers drawn and gaily-colored flags flying from lances. The brown, white and dappled horses were matched for size and color and carried as they were in the cavalry of the Czar.

There also were rows of two-turreted armored cars and tank-ankas, horse-drawn machine guns on caissons famous in the civil war. The armored cars bore inscriptions of their days — "Comrade Lenin," "Power to the Soviets" or "Capital is the Enemy."

Marshal Andrei A. Grechko, the defense minister, opened the parade with a brief address. In the past, this has occasioned walkouts by both American and Communist Chinese diplomats. But yesterday Grechko made only the most routine reference to "the criminal war of the American imperialists in Vietnam" and none at all to China.

The parade was one of the rare recent public events attended by the head of the Chinese diplomatic mission that did not provoke him to leave prematurely.

The march past of the troops, 20 abreast at a modified goose-step, provided a first look at the Soviet Marine Infantry, a recently formed elite unit of troops dressed in black and black berets.

The military review was followed by floats symbolizing in the most earnest socialist realism every facet of Soviet life, from grain harvests to space launchings, from the decisions of the last congress of the Communist party to the joys of peace after war.

The floats were followed by an organized demonstration of schoolchildren, factory workers, youth groups and other bodies that marched for nearly four hours past their leaders, who waved to them from Lenin's tomb.

Egypt Calls for Showdown On Middle East Settlement

By CHARLES STORER
Associated Press Writer
UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Impatient after long weeks of fruitless negotiations, Egypt called yesterday for an urgent meeting of the U.N. Security Council and set the stage for a showdown over rival plans for a Middle East settlement.

The request came in the midst of heated bargaining over a new U.S. draft resolution that Americans had hoped would break the prolonged deadlock over Israeli withdrawal from Arab territory captured in the six-day war last June and continued Arab belligerence toward Israel.

Soon after the Egyptian request was submitted, two resolutions were introduced—one by the United States, and the other by India, Mali and Nigeria.

Members of the 15-nation council consulted on the time of the meeting but said it might not be held until Thursday. The council is scheduled to meet this afternoon on a complaint from the Congo.

Both the U.S. draft and the three-power proposal would authorize the sending of a special representative to the Middle East to try to work out a settlement between the parties, but they differ in the precise assignment given to the representative.

The three-power draft would call for Israeli withdrawal "from all territories occupied as a result of the recent conflict," a formulation that Israel contends prejudices its position. The U.S. plan calls simply for "withdrawal of armed forces from occupied territories."

Each also would call for an end to the Arab state of belligerency against Israel, recognition of the right of freedom of navigation of international waterways and the need for a solution to the Arab refugee problem. But they did not agree on the exact language in which these principles should be expressed.

An Israeli spokesman called the three-power plan "an Arab-Soviet resolution" which he said "tries to dictate surrender terms of Israel."

Commenting on the U.S. proposal, he said the Arab nations and Israel "must negotiate directly." The United Nations, he said, "is duty bound to encourage such negotiations and to issue a clear call for peace."

Prince Gives 'Jackie' Tour of Royal Palace

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Cambodia's Prince Norodom Sihanouk took Mrs.

John F. Kennedy on a tour of the royal palace yesterday, while government-controlled newspapers published a message from the prince wishing the Viet Cong victory over the Americans in Vietnam.

The two events reflected two views Sihanouk has expressed repeatedly to newsmen during Mrs. Kennedy's visit—personal admiration for president Kennedy and his widow, and unaltered opposition to present U.S. policy in Asia.

Mrs. Kennedy, who has not reacted publicly to the prince's anti-American statements, leaves Cambodia today. Since arriving last Thursday, she has satisfied her wish to see the temple ruins at Angkor and has dedicated a street to her husband in the port of Sihanoukville.

Sihanouk's message to the Viet Cong was published as a letter to Nguyen Huu Tho, head of the National Liberation Front, the political arm of the Viet Cong.

In another published message, Sihanouk wishes North Korean leaders success in obtaining "the evacuation of the American invaders in the south of their country." Sihanouk broke diplomatic relations with the United States in 1965, accusing U.S. forces in Vietnam of violating Cambodian territory. The United States denied the accusation.

U.S. Army Hero Killed In Vietnam Fighting

By EDWIN Q. WHITE
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — A U.S. Army hero of three wars was killed in action yesterday as fighting in the central highlands pointed to a possible new Communist dry season offensive in South Vietnam.

Lt. Col. Arthur D. Stigall, a U.S. 1st Infantry Division battalion commander, died in combat around the embattled Loc Ninh district headquarters town near the Cambodian border.

In the air war, U.S. planes swept to within 21 miles of Red China's border on the deepest penetration into the North in two weeks. Other planes raided an apparent new target near Haiphong.

With a shift of the monsoon winds that bring clear skies over the winter, the Communists on the ground have shown an aggressiveness lacking through much of the summer.

Fresh fighting flared yesterday near the district headquarters town of Loc Ninh, where heavy action raged last week, and in the central highlands. Latest reports placed the total American casualties at 18 dead, including the battalion commander, and 55 wounded. U.S. headquarters said 78 Communist troops were killed in the fighting on the two fronts, 66 of them around Loc Ninh.

A spokesman for the 1st Division said early today there had been no further fighting anywhere in the Loc Ninh area since yesterday's engagement.

In the central highlands near Dak To, 300 miles northeast of Saigon, two companies from the U.S. 4th Infantry Division reported killing 12 North Vietnamese troops in another of a series of running skirmishes that began last Friday.

The American infantrymen came under heavy small arms, automatic weapons, rocket and mortar fire from two sides while pursuing the Communist troops eight miles southwest of Dak To. The Communists broke contact with one of the companies after 35 minutes, but continued a heavy barrage of fire on the second company. Artillery and air strikes pounded the Communist positions and, shortly before dark, the North Vietnamese withdrew from their positions and broke contact.

The U.S. troops suffered 10 dead and 35 wounded.

Farther north, entrenched North Vietnamese opened up with heavy automatic and small arms fire Monday on units of the U.S. 83rd Airborne Brigade. The paratroopers called in a team of U.S. Army helicopter.

ter gunships for help.

In the northern sector adjoining the demilitarized zone, which is subjectlike North Vietnam to winter storms, only light action was reported.

Spokesmen said U.S. Marine positions below the DMZ received 38 rounds of mixed artillery and mortar fire Monday. Six Marines were wounded.

A slight break in the weather enabled U.S. jets to get in 95 missions over North Vietnam Monday and stage the first attack of the war on the Gia Thuong military storage area three miles northeast of the center of Hanoi.

John Nance Garner Is Dead at Age 98

By GARTH JONES
Associated Press Writer
UVALDE, Tex. (AP) — John Nance Garner, who rose from humble origins in rural Texas to the nation's highest power councils, died quietly and painlessly yesterday. He was 98.

The former vice president, who was fond of referring to himself as a "little old Democrat," came within one year and two weeks of his goal of living to be 100.

His last words were those of love for a friend.

Garner, widely known as "Cactus Jack," was vice president for the first two terms of Franklin D. Roosevelt's administration. He broke with Roosevelt over the third term issue and left Washington in 1941, vowing never to cross the Potomac River again. He never did.

Death came eight hours after a coronary occlusion, in the bedroom of a frame house built for servants. He had lived in it since turning his big brick home into a museum memorializing his wife, Ettie, who died 20 years ago.

Beside his hospital-type bed were his doctor, Sterling Fly; his only child, Tully; a granddaughter, Mrs. John Curry of Amarillo; and, holding the dying man's hand, his paid companion, Don Large, 24, of Uvalde.

People in this town 50 miles from the Rio Grande in Southwest Texas were preparing for an annual celebration, the birthday Nov. 22 of the man they called Uvalde's No. 1 citizen. Now the stunned citizens are making plans for the funeral Thursday.

Tully, his son, said that a few days ago Garner had asked: "After I'm 99, how many more months until I get to be 100?" At his last birthday, he told assembled reporters and well-wishers: "When you're 98, you've got to be feeling either real good or real bad. I'm feeling real good. I've just got two years to go to make 100—it should be easy."

Born in a log cabin in Red River County, he studied for a year at Vanderbilt University. His ancestors were Tennesseans—returned to Texas, ran for Clarksville city attorney and lost. He moved to Uvalde, 500 miles to the southwest, in his successful campaign for An electrical transformer building seven miles north of Hanoi, another target, was reported obliterated.

The U.S. Command said Communist ground fire killed an F105 Thunderchief northeast of Hanoi and the pilot is missing. The Thunderchief was the 727th American combat plane officially listed as lost over the North.

South Vietnam's government announced 362 Viet Cong turned themselves in under its Open Arms program last week, boosting the total for the year to 25,028. Such defections through the first 11 months of 1966 were 14,719.

GARNER

county judge, he met Miss Ettie Rheiner. She was his wife when he started the first of his two terms in the Texas Legislature in 1898.

He entered Congress in 1903 and stayed so popular in his district he was consistently re-elected without making a campaign speech for 25 years. He came to preside over both houses.

Large, his companion, in a trembling voice, said an hour after Garner died: "This morning he told me he loved me. I reciprocated. He was the greatest."

Picasso, 12 Miros Stolen

(c) N.Y. Times News Service
NEW YORK — An early Picasso, 12 recent paintings by Miro and 11 other art works were stolen from a delivery truck on Manhattan's east-side over the weekend, the police announced yesterday.

The police placed the value of the missing items—23 paintings and a 75-lb. bronze statue of a female nude—at $250,000.

The Picasso, "Children in Luxembourg Garden," was valued at $100,000, and the 12 Miros together were said to be worth the same sum.

The stolen works also included a 73-year-old signed lithograph poster by Toulouse-Lautrec valued at $4,000.

Nation's Jobless Rate Hits Highest Level in Two Years

By NEIL GILBRIDE
AP Labor Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's economy experienced a "disappointing" job slump in October to the highest unemployment rate in two years, the government said yesterday.

The 4.3 per cent jobless rate reflected the sharpest two-month rise in seven years and indicated the number of Americans out of work totaled 500,000 more than there were a year earlier, the Labor Department said.

While total employment increased slightly to 75.1 million, the rate of growth was slower and millions of employees were working shorter hours, the report said.

"Certainly disappointing," was the way Commissioner Arthur M. Ross of the Bureau of Labor Statistics summed it up.

But Ross declined to predict whether a worse economic slowdown appeared in the making and ducked questions as to whether the new figures bolstered President Johnson's argument for an income tax increase.

In previous reports on employment and living costs, Ross had usually interpreted latest economic figures as supporting the need for higher taxes.

Johnson's proposed 10 per cent income tax surcharge is bottled up in the House Ways and Means Committee.

The total number of unemployed rose 56,000 to 2.95 million in October and was some 400,000 above the expected level for the month. The bureau adjusts the jobless figures in line with usual seasonal expectations.

Jobless rates for men rose from 2.3 per cent to 2.5 per cent and for teenagers from 13.8 per cent to 15.1 per cent. The rate for women dropped from 4.9 per cent to 4.8 per cent.

The over-all rate for white workers rose from 3.6 to 3.8 per cent, and the rate for nonwhites—mostly Negroes—went up from 7.9 to 8.8 per cent.

Total employment rose 550,000 in October, the expected increase, but an unexpectedly large rise of 600,000 in the labor force wiped out the job gains.

The total of Americans with jobs was up 1.4 million from a year earlier, but not enough to offset the 1.9 million rise in the labor force.

Serving on committee are the Mesdames Charles Barrett, Larry Davis, David Winans, Adolph Brant, William Oelslager, Peter Dudick, James Kemp, Allan Bailey, John Crone and Klaus Lichte. More than that was not revealed. The pies will be of many varieties—depending on the particularly favored recipes of the individual cooks. The hours next Wednesday will be from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. For your convenience, tickets may also be obtained at Cowdick's Drug Store.

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a 14-year-old girl who needs advice from an older person. The problem is my grandmother. I am staying with her for a month because my folks had to go to another city on business.

I always thought Grandma was the greatest until last week. This is what happened:

Grandma works in a hospital. I noticed that whenever she came from work she always took her shopping bag to the back of the house. She did it in a way that made me think she was hiding something. Yesterday the phone rang just as Gram was coming in. She said, "I'll answer it," and put her shopping bag on the chair. I couldn't help seeing what was in it. Grandma has been taking bedsheets, pillowcases, washclothes, soap and all sorts of odds and ends from the hospital.

Now I know why her back storeroom is loaded with these things. I also know why she gives linens and towels for Christmas and birthdays and weddings. I am just sick about this. Should I tell anyone? If so, whom? — DISAPPOINTED

DEAR DISAPPOINTED: Tell your grandmother that she must have gotten some of the hospital property mixed in with hers when she packed her shopping bag. To circulate the information around the family would serve no useful purpose. Grandma is the only one who needs to know that you are on to her.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am interested in the letter from the man who operates the coin laundry. He said it was a disgrace the way women come in after supper, weary, often pregnant, dragging their bundles, and sometimes a child or two. Where are the husbands? At the ball game or drinking beer in front of the TV. He made it sound pretty grim, Ann, and I'm sure he was speaking for many women across the land. But he wasn't speaking for ME.

My husband offered to buy me an automatic washer three times last year but I said no. Going to the coin laundry is my only chance to get out of the house alone.

Two evenings a week my husband does the supper dishes and puts the kids to bed. I take my knitting and a good book and off I go to the coin laundry. It's the most relaxing part of my whole week. I wouldn't give it up for anything. — K. C. ANN FAN

DEAR K. C.: Thanks for writing. Your letter is proof that nobody can speak for everybody.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a 16-year-old girl who has been dating for about six months. I am allowed to go out on Friday and Saturday evenings. My curfew is midnight and I am permitted to invite my date in for 45 minutes.

It sounds good, but wait till you hear the rest. My 11-year-old brother has instructions that whenever I come home from a date he is supposed to join us in the living room while we visit. Most of the time he is dead tired and hates to be bothered, but Dad wakes him up out of a sound sleep and tells him he has to.

Am I wrong to resent this? When I complained to my folks they said a 16-year-old girl should not be saying anything to her boyfriend that her brother shouldn't hear. What do you say? — M. BARRIST

DEAR M.: I say a girl who is old enough to date doesn't need an 11-year-old chaperone. Your folks are not being fair to you, to your date, or to your brother.

What is French kissing? Is it wrong? Who should set the necking limits — the boy or the girl? Can a shotgun wedding succeed? Read Ann Landers' booklet, "Teen-age Sex — Ten Ways To Cool It." Send 50 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Is alcoholism a disease? How can the alcoholic be treated? Is there a cure? Read the booklet "Alcoholism—Hope and Help," by Ann Landers. Enclose 35 cents in coin with your request and a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The nuptials were solemnized in the First Methodist Church, Sheffield, with the Rev. Jack Boyd officiating.

Music for the double ring wedding rites was played by the organist, Chuck Young. Altar decorations included vases of white gladioli and pink carnations.

Escorted on the arm of her father, the bride wore a gown of white bouquet taffeta and Chantilly lace, with molded bodice, scalloped sabrina neckline edged with seed pearls and iridescent, long tapering sleeves, and a voluminous skirt, under a redingote of taffeta, with ruffles of lace down the front. The court train in a double panel effect had wide scalloped bands of the lace. Her bouffant veil of silk illusion was caught to a delicate wedding ring crown of taffeta embroidered with pearls and crystals. She carried a cascade of white Fuji mums.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Beverly Vaughan, sister of the bride, was in embossed sheer velvet in vari-colors over bright pink taffeta with which she wore a velvet bow headpiece with crystals. Gowned similarly was the bridesmaid, Miss Anita Farnsworth. The flower girl, Lori Ann Carvelli, was in a frock of bright pink velvet and crepe with satin and satin hair-bow.

The best man was Kenneth Shall, brother of the groom of Weirton, West Virginia; ushers were Timothy Farr of Warren, Joseph Schrecongost of Mt. Jewett. The ringbearer was Master Dean Schrecongost.

Mrs. Valone, mother of the bride wore a powder blue knit suit with brown accessories and a corsage of bronze pom-poms; Mrs. Shall, mother of the groom, chose an ensemble of brown with touches of white, and had a yellow pompon corsage. Grandmother Mrs. Carmen Mecell was also remembered with a corsage of white carnations.

A reception was held for one hundred at St. Paul Center, Saybrook, where decorations were carried out in arrangements of carnations and wedding bells. Aides were Patrick Valone and Mrs. Cathy Schrecongost.

For a wedding trip to Niagara Falls, the new Mrs. Shall wore a shocking pink dress with black accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations. Mr. and Mrs. Shall are now residing at 214½ Hall street, Sheffield.

The groom served two years in the U.S. Army, six months of which were spent in Vietnam. He is now employed at Betts Machine Shop.

Pre-nuptial affairs were given by Mrs. Helen Hogan and Miss Sue Spencer, Mrs. Beverly Vaughan, sister of the bride. The rehearsal dinner was given by the mother of the groom, Mrs. Mary Shall.

Guests were present at the wedding from Warren, Sheffield, Mt. Jewett, Barnes, and the states of Ohio, Florida, and New York.

World Community Day Is Hosted By Women Of Bethel EUB Church

The Bethel E.U.B. Church was host for the first meeting of this season of the Warren County United Church Women on World Community Day, Friday afternoon. Mrs. Leroy Lundgren, whose husband is the pastor of the church, welcomed the members of other churches present. The president, Mrs. John Mallory Jr., presided at the business meeting.

Reports on the completed Overseas Clothing Drive for the Church World Service; and on the estimated budget for the coming year were given, as well as the annual report. New changes in the constitution and by-laws were adopted.

Miss Viola Lindmark was appointed to fill the office of secretary.

retary vacated through the former secretary's resignation. Mrs. Mabel Mattson of Trinity Memorial Episcopal Church led devotions, followed by the offertory prayer given by Mrs. Paul Nordine of St. John's Lutheran Church, prior to the business meeting.

The speaker for the afternoon was the Rev. Harold B. West, migrants' chaplain for Potter County. He showed pictures and told of the conditions and places in which the migrant workers live. Many illustrative incidents were related, both amusing and otherwise. This year there were 563 migrants in Potter County, with sixty of them coming to Warren County for the harvest season. There is a great need, the speaker noted, for used clothing and blankets for these families. The church women were invited to help in this work.

The Rev. Leroy Lundgren gave the closing prayer, after which refreshments were served in Fellowship Hall by the host church, assisted by members of St. John's Lutheran Church and Trinity Memorial Episcopal Church.

The December meeting of the Warren County United Church Women will be at Grace Methodist Church. A program of Christmas music will be sung by the Warren Area High School A Cappella Choir. Members of the Warren County United Church Women were reminded to bring gifts for the notion cart at Warren State Hospital to the meeting.

Valone SHOE STORE
326 Pa. Ave., W. Warren, Pa.

By Bernardine Morris
(c) N. Y. Times News Service
NEW YORK — Getting there may be half the fun, but few women have found packing for a trip anything but a chore. Lingerie designers are trying to cut down on the planning as well as the luggage by providing styles that can be worn for sleeping, playing or under clothes. Formfit is thoughtfully providing a tote bag to match a group of polka-dotted fashions that could cover most of the exigencies of an informal summer weekend. The tote could carry the parts a woman didn't happen to be wearing at the moment. She might start out in the shift over a matching bra and shorts, discard the dress on arrival and be ready for sunbathing. The tote could hold the cami-sole-top pajamas to sleep in and matching slippers. All the components add up to $29, including the bag. They'll be ready next spring. So will a new edition of Emilio Pucci's pajamas in a new pattern called "Fiore e Foglie" (flowers and leaves). Formfit has been producing the Italian designer's lingerie in this country for several seasons and finds they are not necessarily restricted to the boudoir. So a matching bra has been added to the shirt and pants. (It can presumably be seen when the neckline is unbuttoned to a deep plunge for patio parties.) The three pieces will sell for $60. Warner's Deanna Littell is also thinking flowers for spring. The sportswear designer who doubles in lingerie doesn't care whether her tank-top jumpsuits and T-shirts and shorts are worn under clothes, for sleeping or as play suits. They're designed for all three roles. Because they're interchangeable, they simplify dressing as well as packing. They'll be available in March. With the shirt-and-skirt boom gathering momentum, Viola Syl-bert of Albert Alfus had designed a group of snug shirts and gathered-waistline skirts in striped jersey that will be at Henri Bendel next month. The tops have scalloped or stand-up collars or necklines shaped like a keyhole. The skirts have big buckles on their matching belts. The price will be $100 for the shirt and skirt.

A Bird for the Family

Thanksgiving brings family and friends together to enjoy a festive meal and exchange the latest news. The bountiful table may be in grandmother's dining room or in the small apartment of the newly marrieds. Whatever the location, it is an exciting moment when the turkey appears for carving. A new homemaker can be just as confident of the success of her first turkey dinner as though she had prepared them annually. The secret is to select the turkey that comes already stuffed with an old-fashioned bread stuffing.

The frozen pre-stuffed turkey greatly simplifies dinner arrangements. The body and neck of these birds are filled with a delicious bread stuffing, flavorful with celery, onion and sage. The drumsticks of this stuffed turkey are tucked into a slit of skin at the base of the breast bone so there is no fussing with trussing. The handsome turkey goes from wrapper to roasting pan in a matter of minutes. The turkey carver in the family will thank her profusely for selecting a turkey with the major leg tendons pulled. The brand name of the best-known bird assures a tender, juicy turkey of the highest quality. Complete cooking directions accompany each of these famous turkeys.

Onion "mums" blossom on the platter beside the turkey. They are a flowery garnish to be served hot with the tender slices of turkey. Or try sweet potato balls, with pumpkin, spice and everything nice, to serve with this beautifully browned bird.

GLAZED ONION-MUMS + ON APPLE SLICES
Yield: 5 servings
5 medium-sized onions
3 cups ice water
3 large apples
1 cup granulated sugar
1/2 cup water
Butter

TO MAKE ONION-CHRYSA- THEMUMS: Peel and cut the top of medium-sized onions. Use a sharp knife to cut down through the onion almost to the bottom to make 1/2 inch slices. Cut crosswise in the same way to make 1/2 inch squares. Keep onion in the original round shape. Place cut-side down in ice water. Refrigerate over night. Onions will blossom like flower petals. Remove. Drain on absorbent paper.

CENTER OF ATTENTION

The Thanksgiving bird, whether purchased already stuffed or fixed at home, occupies the center of attention on any holiday menu.

TO MAKE GLAZED MUMS ON APPLE SLICES: Wash and core apples. Cut into 1/2 inch slices. Dip apple slices into lemon juice to prevent discoloration. Place apple slices in baking dish. Top with onion mums which have been dotted with butter. Meanwhile, heat sugar and water in sauce pan to boiling. Pour syrup over onions and apples. Cover. Bake in a moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for 25 minutes until onions and apples become tender. Baste occasionally with syrup during baking time. Remove cover. Continue to bake for 15 minutes, basting frequently. If desired, place under broiler heat 2 to 3 minutes to brown tips of onion mums. Serve on turkey platter.

PUMPKIN-SPICE SWEET POTATOES +
Yield: 8 servings
3 medium-sized sweet potatoes, cooked and peeled
1 cup pumpkin
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1/4 teaspoon ginger
1/4 cup milk
chopped nuts

Cut sweet potatoes into quarters. Place in mixing bowl. Add pumpkin, spices and milk. Blend thoroughly until thick, smooth consistency. Using 1/2 cup pumpkin-potato mixture, shape into round balls. Roll in chopped nuts to coat evenly. Place on baking sheet, heat in moderate (350 degree F.) oven for 20 minutes. Serve hot on turkey platter garnished with parsley.

Go-along Wedges

Serve corned beef or tongue with crisp wedges of western iceberg lettuce topped with a mixture of sour cream, chopped pickles, green onion and horseradish.
